Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used, viz.: "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State an municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of return varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on.

Note.—Owing to the present demoralized condition of the municipal bond markets, brokers and dealers find it difficult, and in many cases, almost impossible to make quotations for municipal bonds Bid prices, especially for the smaller municipalities are practically out of the question and sales or terms are simply a matter of bargaining between buyer and seller In fact the absolute lack of demand often causes good bonds to be offered at almost any price.

REVIEW OF SEPTEMBER—COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL EVENTS.

During September trade remained in about the same state as previously, with no well-defined indications of betterment. The disposition appeared to be to await the outcome of the Presidential election, which was steadily drawing nearer and at the end of the month was only five weeks off. The authorities at Washington continued their efforts for reviving trade activity through the numerous Government agencies expressly devised for that purpose, but the hopeful developments of the previous month, in the shape of higher commodity prices, and which appeared to invest the immediate future with brighter promise, were not fully maintained. Commodity prices in several principal instances again dropped back, suggesting caution about banking too heavily on the probability of any great improvement in trade for the time being. The setback in commodity prices was particularly in evidence in the case of agricultural products, where distress and suffering is keenest because of the low level of values ruling. Cotton lost a considerable portion of its gain established the previous month, and grain prices in the West also again moved lower. Indeed, in the case of corn and oats the further collapse in market values brought prices down to figures lower than any witnessed for a generation and perhaps lower than ever before recorded, and certainly rendering the business of farming absolutely unprofitable.

Political considerations also played an important part in suggesting caution against being venturesome in a business way until the outlook became more clearly defined. The Maine State election resulted in an overwhelming defeat of the Republican Party, a Democratic Governor being elected for the first time in 18 years and the Democrats carrying two out of the three Congressional districts. This naturally led President Hoover and his Republican supporters to redouble their efforts to make the issues involved in the Presidential contest plain to the voters and thereby political questions for the time being thrust trade and trade affairs into the background. Perhaps most important of all in enforcing quietude upon trade and intensifying the dulness prevailing, from which there appeared no escape, was that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was traveling over the country and engaging in a speaking campaign in order to acquaint the electorate of the country with his views on the leading questions of the day, and during the course of these addresses gave expression to thoughts and utterances that were to say the least disturbing, thereby halting further energy and activity in the business world. Altogether, from a trade standpoint, September may be said to have been the quietest month of the whole year up to this time.

THE MAINE ELECTION—OVERTHROW OF REPUBLICANS—PRESIDENT HOOVER STIRRED TO NEW EFFORTS.

As noted above the Maine election on Monday, Sept. 12 eventuated in a complete political overthrow, with the Democratic candidates successful beyond all expectations. For the first time in 18 years the Democratic Party succeeded in electing its candidate for Governor, Louis J. Brann, the Democratic contestant receiving a plurality of about 2,500 votes over Burleigh Martin, his Republican opponent. In addition, the Democrats carried two out of the three Congressional districts in the State, whereas two years ago there was a solid phalanx of Republicans to represent the State in Congress. It is well enough to note, too, that at the last Congressional election Maine had four Congressmen to represent the State, all Republicans, while under the recent reapportionment the number has been reduced to only three, of which, as stated, the Republicans gained only one. Mr. Hoover was quick to recognize the importance of the outcome, and promptly issued one of the manifestos for which he has become so famous, making it plain that he at least does not believe his cause to be hopeless, and urging his adherents to renewed efforts to enlighten the public as to the issues at stake in the Presidential election. In a message to Chairman Sanders of the Republican National Committee, he expressed himself to the following effect:

"The result of the election in Maine imposes need for renewed and stronger effort that the people may fully understand the issues at stake. We have known all along that, owing to the ravages of the world depression, our fight is a hard one; but we have a strong case and a right cause. Our task is to acquaint every man and woman in the country with the facts and issues which confront the nation.

"In periods of emergency and stress, steadfast adherence to sound principles of Government is indispensible to national security and a prerequisite to recovery in business, agriculture and employment. Adherence to these principles has saved the country during the last 12 months from all manner of destructive panaceas. This adherence and the measures and policies we have adopted have preserved these principles and laid the foundation for recovery.

"My chief concern now is that the work of reconstruction shall go forward steadily and that the forces we have mobilized to that end, and which are beginning to prove effective, shall continue. This transcends all personal and partisan considerations."

GOVERNOR FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT'S SPEECHMAKING TOUR—ADVOCATES RADICAL POLICIES AND MAKES DISQUIETING UTTERANCES.

The addresses which Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt made in his tour across the country in his canvass for the Presidency attracted wide attention. In his several addresses he declared his views on a number of important questions. He laid down a six-point plan for dealing with the railroad question; offered an eight-point program for Government regulation of utilities engaged in power production; urged reciprocal traiffs to restore the country's foreign trade: had something to say on the silver question; discussed idleness and declared unemployment insurance was coming, &c., &c.

His program for railroad relief dealt with the livest question of the day, and also the most pressing one. The part of this address which gave the most concern was his intimation of possible wholesale financial reorganizations of the railroads. The intimation was contained in the closing portion of the address where he summarized his views. Here is the part referred to:

Railroad securities in general must not be allowed to drift into default. The damage done to savings banks, insurance companies and fiduciary institutions generally would be too great.

But let me make it clear that the extension of Government credit will be largely wasted unless with it there are adopted the constructive measures required to clean house. In individual railroads these turn on the financial conditions peculiar to each case. In certain situations, where fixed charges impose an unsound over-strain, they must be reduced.

In general, corrective measures must be adopted making for a sounder financial structure along the lines I now propose to set out. Unless the underlying conditions are recognized we are wasting our time and our money.

The "corrective measures" here advocated were to be applied by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, a body never very friendly to the carriers. It was after this allusion to possible reorganizations that Governor Roosevelt submitted his six-point plan. This plan was briefly summarized in the daily papers as follows:

1. Government financial support for the railroads for a specified period, conditioned upon the readjustment of "top-heavy" railroad financial structures. During this period he would work out a "National transportation policy" and have the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Inter-State Commerce Commission co-operate by applying it to the railroads.

2. Thorough overhauling of Federal laws affecting railroad receiverships.

3. Regulation by Inter-State Commerce Commission of competing motor carriers, at the same time permitting railroads to supplement their service with buses and trucks.

4. Modification of present policy of competition where traffic is insufficient to support competing lines, and elimination of non-paying mileage where needs of communities affected can be served in other ways.

5. Pressure to conclusion of railroad consolidations, but under revisions of law defining more clearly the "objects, powers and duties" of the Inter-State Commerce Commission with regard to interests of investors, operators, workers and shippers "in promoting and safeguarding all the inter-related particular interests, comprehended within the public interest."

6. Regulation of railroad holding companies by Inter-State Commerce Commission.

Mr. Roosevelt in his various addresses unfolded an all-embracing program of relief and reconstruction for virtually all the ills under which the people are laboring. He also stressed the fact that he wanted to have himself labeled as a "progressive" as distinguished from a conservative. Speaking at Lamy, N. Mex., in a new appeal to the Progressives in both parties, he asserted that the Democratic party was the Progressive party, and that there was no longer room in this country for two major parties both of which were conservative. His precise words were: "We are very certain in these days that the Democratic party is progressive. More and more it becomes clear that our party represents liberal ideals, and more and more we are convinced that there is not room in this country for two parties both conservative. We are going to reconstruct the Government at Washington after the 4th of next March. We are going to work toward the object of having prosperity, when it returns, appear equally in all sections of the country."

His program also involves the establishment of what is vaguely known as "social justice" in accordance with his own ideas of what must be included in the term. At San Francisco on Friday, Sept. 23, he promulgated his views in that respect and laid down the following as the premises on which the scheme of a new day in the industrial, the social and the economic world must be based:

The unfeeling statistics of the past three decades show that the independent business man is running a losing race. Perhaps he is forced to the wall; perhaps he cannot command credit; perhaps he is "squeezed out," in Mr. Wilson's words, by highly organized corporate competitors, as your corner grocery man can tell you.

Recently a careful study was made of the concentration of business in the United States.

It showed that our economic life was dominated by some 600-odd corporations who controlled two-thirds of American industry. Ten million small business men divided the other third.

More striking still, it appeared that, if the process of concentration goes on at the same rate, at the end of another century we shall have all American industry controlled by a dozen corporations and run by perhaps a hundred men.

Put plainly, we are steering a steady course toward economic oligarchy, if we are not there already.

It will be perceived that Mr. Roosevelt has visions of an "economic oligarchy" and means to grapple with the evil in heroic fashion. He even spoke with approval of the trust-busting campaign of his illustrious cousin, former President Theodore Roosevelt, and the cry raised by the latter against "malefactors of great wealth."

OPENING OF SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS FOR PURCHASE OF STOCK IN NEW FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANKS—BANKS TO BEGIN OPERATIONS OCT. 15.

Subscription books for the purchase of stock in the new Federal Home Loan banks were opened in over 60 cities on Sept. 14. Franklin W. Fort, Chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, was quoted as saying on Sept. 14:

We are moving forward with our plans and we have no doubt now that we can have each of the 12 banks organized and fully staffed so that they can take over the business on the morning of Oct. 15.

The "United States Daily" of Sept. 15 reporting this said:

Mr. Fort declared he was enthusiastic about the co-operation the Board is receiving in handling emergency cases where foreclosures have been threatened as a result of inability of home owners to obtain renewals. He announced the receipt of advices from building and loan or other lending agency organizations in Iowa, Kansas, Waco, Tex., Massachusetts and New Jersey, that "clearing houses" to find funds for emergency cases were being set up. The Virginia Building and Loan League previously had invited the Board to forward to it all of the applications for direct loans to enable its membership to make arrangements locally for financial relief.

Capital Now Released.

In this connection the Chairman added that his information disclosed to him the important release of capital in many centres where lending institutions are now making loans or renewals which they were afraid to make heretofore because of the dangers of having all of their assets frozen. They now have assurance, he explained, that in another 30 days they can take mortgages to the Home Loan banks and obtain new funds so that the danger of frozen assets has been almost entirely eliminated from their calculations.

PRESIDENT HOOVER URGES SPEEDING UP OF $200,000,000 FEDERAL CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM UNDER EMERGENCY RELIEF AND CONSTRUCTION ACT.

In a statement issued on Sept. 10 President Hoover announced that instructions had been issued to the various departments "to undertake the speeding up of the Federal construction program by the amount of slightly less than $200,000,000." His statement indicated that this amount would bring this fiscal year's total construction outlay to over $750,000,000, which would bring aggregate construction expenditures since the depression up to next July to about $2,300,000,000. The enlarged work, he said, "had been undertaken solely in aid to employment." A Washington dispatch Sept. 9 to the New York "Herald Tribune" said:

Before Mr. Hoover made public his announcement he had received from Secretary Mills a letter informing him that the funds necessary to carry out the relief bill authorizations could be obtained upon reasonable terms. As a rousing indication of the ability of the Treasury to obtain money at low rates, Mr. Mills also announced this afternoon that the public had oversubscribed last Tuesday's offering of $750,000,000 in 3¼% five-year Treasury notes by almost six times and the offering of $400,000,000 in 1¼% one-year certificates by more than seven times.

The President's statement of Sept. 9 follows:

In order further to aid employment, I have instructed the various departments to undertake the speeding up of the Federal construction program by the amount of slightly less than $200,000,000, being the contingent appropriation in the 1932 relief and construction act.

The Secretary of the Treasury has notified me that the necessary funds can be now made available. By the addition of the amounts which can be applied from this fund, the total Federal construction work during this present fiscal year of all kinds will exceed $750,000,000.

This speeding up from this additional fund will be largely in the river and harbor, flood control and public building projects which were authorized from two to five years ago.

The expenditure on all classes of construction since the depression began and up to next July will total about $2,300,000,000. This sum is more than double the normal pace and the enlarged work has, of course, been undertaken solely in aid to employment.

The actual projects which will be speeded up under this additional sum will be announced by the various departments.

PRESIDENT HOOVER ANNOUNCES EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF CROP LOANS TO WHEAT FARMERS—AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT TO ACCEPT 25% OF AMOUNT DUE PENDING ACTION BY CONGRESS—STEPS TO RELIEVE FARM MORTGAGE SITUATION.

President Hoover on Sept. 28 took steps to assist wheat farmers who, it was declared in a White House announcement, had found it practically impossible because of low prices for wheat to repay this year's crop loans without incurring grave risk of need during the winter. The announcement revealed, said the "United States Daily" of Sept. 29, that Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, after a conference with President Hoover, had directed the Department to accept from wheat farmers who are unable to repay their loans 25% of the amount due on such loans, with an agreement to secure the remaining 75% on "whatever terms Congress may authorize." "Upon payment of such 25% and execution of the agreement," it was stated, "no further payment will be required until opportunity has been given Congress to pass on the question involved."

On Sept. 28, also, President Hoover notified Governor Turner of Iowa that he had obtained a preliminary discussion among Eastern concerns and Federal agencies on farm mortgages, and that banking and industrial committees in the Mid-West would start an effort to alleviate the situation. The President's telegram to Governor Turner said that Henry Robinson, Chairman of the executive committee of the banking and industrial committees set up in each Federal Reserve District, had called members of those committees in the Mid-West to meet in Chicago on Sept. 29 to consider farm mortgages.

PRESIDENT HOOVER DECLARES ENACTMENT OF LEGISLATION FOR PAYMENT OF SOLDIER BONUS WOULD BE "DEADLY BLOW TO WELFARE OF NATION"—AMERICAN LEGION IN ANNUAL CONVENTION NEVERTHELESS URGES IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF BONUS.

President Hoover took occasion on Sept. 14 to declare his stand on the question of the cash payment of the face value of adjusted service certificates of war veterans, as to which he asserted "in my judgment the enactment of any such proposal into legislation would be a deadly blow at the welfare of the Nation." "Cash payment of face value of certificates to-day would require," said the President, "an appropriation from the Treasury of about $2,300,000,000." The President also said:

It is unthinkable that the Government of the United States should resort to the printing press and the issuance of fiat currency as provided in the bill which passed the House at the last session of Congress. Such an act of moral bankruptcy would depreciate and might ultimately destroy the value of every dollar in the United States. It would cause the collapse of all confidence in our Government and would bring widespread ruin to the entire country and to every one of our citizens.

In a dispatch from Washington Sept. 14 to the New York "Times" it was observed:

Coming on the eve of a probable demand by the Legion convention in Portland, Ore., for immediate payment of the bonus, and within a day of a challenge by Alfred E. Smith to both Presidential candidates to make known their position on the bonus, Mr. Hoover's statement emphasized that he not only had a duty to see that justice was done to the 4,000,000 veterans and their families, "but also to exert myself for justice to the other 21,000,000 families to whom consummation of this proposal at this time would be a calamity."

Despite President Hoover's warning, a resolution calling for the immediate payment of the soldier bonus was adopted by a vote of 1,167 to 109 at the concluding session on Sept. 15 of the annual convention of the American Legion in Portland, Ore. As adopted the resolution reads:

Resolved, That the American Legion endorses and urges the full and immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates, and that the national officers be instructed immediately to proceed before Congress toward enactment of this legislation.

A Portland dispatch, Sept. 15, to the New York "Times" thus records the action of the Legion:

It made this demand, which if acceded to by Congress would involve an expenditure of more than $2,000,000,000, at the climax of a tense gathering, vociferous with cheers and jeers, in which some leaders of the Legion warned passionately that it would blacken the Legion in the eyes of the country, destroy its influence, wreck its record of patriotic service and endanger its efforts for disabled veterans.

The Legion convention also voted by 1,145 to 133 for immediate repeal of the Volstead Act and submission of a resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

It adjourned without any expression of censure for President Hoover for the handling of the bonus army situation, notwithstanding that this question has seethed under the surface of the convention all week. The resolutions committee had smothered the fiery resolution pressed by the Pennsylvania delegation by a vote of 29 to 1 last night, which precluded a minority report, and the Pennsylvanians smoldered silently through to-day's session, unable to find a way to get their measure to the floor.

President Hoover's appeal against the bonus, issued yesterday, had no weight in the decision of to-day. Few in the auditorium even knew about it, notwithstanding that it was prominently displayed in the morning newspapers.

War Department Censured.

The name of President Hoover was not once mentioned in the entire convention. The bonus army came into to-day's proceedings only inferentially, and that one oblique reference resulted in a vote of censure for the War Department.

The rebuke to Secretary Hurley's bureau came as the convention was getting settled this morning. Delegates found in their seats envelopes franked by the War Department containing mimeographed copies of a statement by Secretary Hurley defending the eviction of the Bonus Expeditionary Force. Commander Harry M. Arthur of South Carolina rose, brandishing his copy indignantly, and moved a vote of censure, which the convention carried by a viva voce vote, with a sizable "Nay" recorded

20% CUT VOTED FOR RAIL WORKERS—EXECUTIVES AT CHICAGO RECOMMEND SLASH EFFECTIVE FEB. 1 NEXT—PRESIDENT HOOVER ASKS POSTPONEMENT.

A committee of railway executives, meeting in Chicago Sept. 9, recommended that notice be served upon all classes of railway employees that a 20% reduction in the basic rates of pay will be made, effective next Feb. 1. The committee organized and selected W. F. Thiehoff, General Manager of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy, as Chairman.

The Railway Labor Executives Association rejected, Sept. 21, the offer of the Railway Management Committee to discuss the wage question in advance of the expiration on Jan. 31 next of the existing agreement providing for a 10% wage reduction.

Representatives of the railroad employees asked President Hoover Sept. 22 to make further Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to the railroads conditional upon the railroads maintaining wages upon the present basis. They declared any further cut at this time an unsound and destructuve policy. The statement of the Railway Labor Executives' Association was presented at the White House by A. F. Whitney and the principal officers of twenty-one rail unions.

President Hoover on Sept. 26 appealed to the leading railway presidents of the country, as well as to representatives of railway labor, to postpone the discussion of further wage cuts until the end of the present year. The attitude of the President had been communicated personally by him the previous week to representatives of both the railways and rail labor organizations, with whom he discussed the matter at the White House, but the fact was not revealed until late Sept. 26 when it was announced by Secretary of Labor Doak.

Important railroads in the East and West indicated that they were prepared on certain conditions to comply with the appeal made by President Hoover that they postpone discussion of a further wage reduction until Jan. 1. The conditions would involve a temporary extension of the present 10% reduction agreement beyond its present date of expiration, Feb. 1. The condition was put forward in order that expiration of the agreement on Feb. 1 would not result in automatically restoring the old rates.

CALVIN COOLIDGE AND ALFRED E. SMITH ACCEPT APPOINTMENT AS MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE TO EXAMINE INTO COUNTRY'S RAILROAD PROBLEMS—OTHER MEMBERS B. M. BARUCH, CLARK HOWELL SR. AND ALEXANDER LEGGE.

It became definitely known on Sept. 27 that former President Calvin Coolidge and Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of New York, were to be members of a committee which is to be charged with the duty of examining into all phases of the railroad problem and recommending "a solution which, with due regard for the public interest, will insure an opportunity for the railroads of the country to operate on a business basis, to the end that there may be a stabilization in employment of wage earners and in the values of investments made in behalf of insurance policyholders and savings bank depositors, and a general enhancement of the prosperity of the railroads and of the many lines of business which, in turn, depend upon them." The committee is to consist of five members, the other three being:

Bernard M. Baruch, director of the Balt. & Ohio RR., Vice-Chairman.

Clark Howell Sr., publisher of the Atlanta "Constitution" and a director of the Associated Press.

Alexander Legge, President of the International Harvester Co. and former Chairman of the Federal Farm Board.

The announcement of the appointment of the committee was made on Sept. 27 by Walter H. Bennett, President of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank of New York City. In the letter of invitation to those who are to form the committee it was stated that "the present financial position of the railroads of the United States is a matter of grave concern. Collectively, the greatest and most important industry of our country, the railroads have operated in this year at staggering deficits." According to an announcement made Sept. 30 by Mr. Bennett, the five named to the committee "have accepted and agreed very generously to serve without compensation."

COURSE OF GRAIN MARKETS AGAIN UNSATISFACTORY—WHEAT PRICES NOT MAINTAINED, AND CORN AND OATS PRICES DROP TO NEW LOW LEVELS—COFFEE PRICES BREAK ON RUMORS OF THE TERMINATION OF THE REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL—CUBAN PRESIDENT EXTENDS THE LIFE OF SUGAR POOL.

The grain market again weakened. Wheat prices slumped badly the first half of the month, and though there was a recovery in the latter half, the early loss was not fully regained. Perhaps the most serious depressing influence was the large estimates regarding the size of the wheat crop in the Dominion of Canada. The official figures stated that the indications pointed to a yield of 467,150,000 bushels for the whole of Canada, as against 304,000,000 bushels harvested in 1931. The Canadian growth of wheat consists mainly of spring wheat raised in the Western provinces, and the yield in 1931 was heavily reduced, as was the spring wheat yield in the United States by extreme drouth which almost destroyed the wheat over large areas, and the fact that the crop was poor in 1931 will explain the extent of the increase in 1932 under more favorable conditions. Entirely apart from that, however, the 1932 wheat crop in Canada, is one of the largest on record. As Canadian exports of wheat concurrently proved very large, while as a result of the British Empire Conference at Ottawa, Canadian wheat beginning the present month will have a preference of 4½c. a bushel over wheat imported into Great Britain from other countries, there is obviously reason for concern as to whether the United States can export its surplus supplies, and at satisfactory prices. The September option for wheat at Chicago, after rising from 51½c. on Sept. 1 to 55¾c. Sept. 6, dropped to 48c. on Sept. 15, but recovered to 52⅞c. Sept. 28, with the range Sept. 30 at 50⅞@51½c. with the close on the latter day at 51¼c., as against the opening price on Sept. 1 of 51⅞c. The December option at Chicago, after moving up from 55⅞c. Sept. 1 to 60c. Sept. 6, broke to 51½c. on Sept. 15 and then recovered to 55¼c. on Sept. 29. In this case the closing price Sept. 30 was 53⅜c., which compared with the opening price on Sept. 1 of 56⅜c., showing a decline of fully 3c. a bushel. At Winnipeg prices showed an almost uninterrupted decline until the close of the month, and that doubtless will explain the freedom with which Canadian wheat moved out of the country on export shipments, or it may be that there was an adjustment of prices to the basis of the 4½c. preference which Dominion wheat will enjoy when the preference tariff rates go into effect early in October. At any rate, the September option for wheat at Winnipeg, after rising from 55c. Sept. 1 to 58½c. Sept. 6, almost continously declined thereafter, and on Sept. 30 sold down to 49c. The December option for wheat at Winnipeg, after rising from 56½c. Sept. 1 to 60½c. Sept. 6, dropped to 51¼c. on Sept. 30.

Corn and oats prices after a slight rally at the beginning of the month dropped to new low levels, and it is not surprising that Western farmers should have become increasingly discouraged. The September option for corn in Chicago, after opening on Sept. 1 at 30c. a bushel and touching 31¾c. Sept. 6, sold down on Sept. 30 to only 25c. a bushel. The December option for corn touched 27⅛c. Sept. 30, against 34½c. on Sept. 3, and an opening price on Sept. 1 of 33⅝c. A Chicago dispatch Oct. 2 to the New York "Times," speaking of conditions at the close of the month, said that there was little speculative interest now in corn on the Board of Trade, although prices were the lowest since prior to 1900. Three cars of new Illinois sample grade corn had been received at terminals and sold at 19½ to 20c. a bushel. The dispatch went on to say: "On the basis of this price, a farmer in western Iowa, which has a high freight rate to the local market, would have received around 4c. a bushel for the grain, after deducting freight and other charges, but without allowing for husking or hauling costs. As home traders see it, corn has declined to about a point where it is now, close to worthless as a medium of exchange in some sections, except when other commodities are taken at an equally low basis."

The situation as to oats prices was even more discouraging. The September option for oats in Chicago dropped from 17¾c. Sept. 1 to 14⅞c. Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 15⅛c. The December option for wheat, after rallying from 19⅛c. Sept. 1 to 20c. Sept. 6, touched 17⅛c. on Sept. 30. A dispatch from Chicago Sunday, Oct. 2, stated that all active deliveries on the Board of Trade had dropped the past week to a new low for the season, the May option selling below 20c. a bushel for the first time, and that it was necessary to go back to 1896 to find figures that compared with those now ruling. The Agricultural Bureau at Washington, in the ordinary course, on Sept. 9 issued its monthly report, indicating the promise of the growing crops as of Sept. 1. The probable production of winter wheat was placed at 442,000,000 bushels, the same as the previous month, as compared with 789,000,000 bushels harvested in 1931, when the winter wheat yield was of phenomenal proportions. The spring wheat yield was estimated at 273,000,000 bushels, which compared with 281,000,000 bushels, the estimate on Aug. 1, and with 305,000,000 bushels July 1; but with an actual harvest of spring wheat in 1931, when the crop was almost a complete failure, of only 104,000,000 bushels. In other words, the total for all wheat was put at 715,000,000 bushels, as against 894,000,000 bushels in 1931. The probable production of corn was placed at 2,854,000,000 bushels, or 34,000,000 bushels more than the estimate the previous month of 2,820,000,000 bushels, but 142,000,000 bushels less than the July 1 estimate of 2,996,000,000 bushels. In 1931 the harvest of corn was only 2,563,000,000 bushels. The oats crop was estimated at 1,245,000,000 bushels, as against the estimate of 1,215,000,000 bushels in August, but comparing with an actual harvest of only 1,112,000,000 bushels of oats in 1931.

As indicated further below, the renewed decline in wheat during September occurred, notwithstanding further measures of relief provided by the Federal Farm Board and notwithstanding also that at the close of the month President Hoover was considering a proposal from Cuina to buy 15,000,000 bushels of wheat providing the necessary credit could be obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Further spectacular advances in the price of coffee occurred during September, but at the very close of the month a sharp break occurred on rumors that the revolution in Brazil was about to be terminated. The advance in coffee prices had been almost continuous from the commencement of the Brazilian revolution on July 9. With each successive day free coffee supplies in the United States grew smaller because of the fact that the port of Santos in Brazil remained closed. Coffee roasters and chain stores and other consumers of coffee became anxious bidders in the market, and the result was a persistent upward trend in prices. On Thursday, Sept. 29, however, the futures market at the opening broke 200 points in the December Santos option on the report that the revolution was over. The report, though, was not fully confirmed, it appearing merely that negotiations were in progress with the revolutionists. The result was that prices at the close of the month were badly demoralized and that reliable quotations were hard to get; and the December Santos option declined 52 points more on Sept. 30. After the close of the month the Federal Farm Board offered 62,500 bags of its holdings of coffee for sale, but succeeded in disposing of only 24,000 bags, at prices ranging from 11½c. to 15c., owing to the unsettled condition of things. It was announced that the unsold quantity of 38,500 bags—unsold because the bids were too low—would be disposed of on Tuesday, Oct. 5. The spot market for coffee was disrupted by the declines in the futures market. Trade reports said that no one knew what buyers would pay, since none indicated interest pending further developments in Brazil. Sellers, too, were reluctant to offer for the same reason. No. 7 Rio for spot delivery was quoted nominally at 10c. bid on Sept. 28. This compared with 8¾c. bid Aug. 31; 8¼c. July 30; 7⅞c. on June 30; 8½c. May 31; 7¾@7⅞c. April 30; 7¼c. March 31; 7¼c. Feb. 29; 7⅛c. Jan. 30; also with 7@7¼c. Dec. 31; 6½@6⅝c. Nov. 30; 5¾@6c. Oct. 31; 5½c. Sept. 30; 5½@5¾c. Aug. 31; 5⅞@6c. July 31; 6⅞@7c. June 30; 6⅝c. May 29; 6½@6¾c. April 30; 5½c. March 31; 5½@5⅝c. Feb. 28; 6¾c. Jan. 31, all in the year 1931, and with 7¼@7½c. Dec. 31 1930.

There was no quotation Sept. 30 for No. 7 Santos, but earlier in the month the price was 14c. bid. This compares with 12⅝c. Aug. 31; 10¼c. July 30; 9⅛@9⅝c. June 30; 9¾@10c. May 31; 9c. bid April 30; 8½c. bid March 31; 8½c. Feb. 29; 8⅝c. Jan. 30. It also compares with 8@8¼c. Dec. 31; 7¼@7½c. Nov. 30; 7¼c. bid Oct. 31; 6⅞@7c. Sept. 30; 6⅝@6⅞c. Aug. 31; 7½@7⅞c. July 31; 8½@9c. June 30; 8½@8¾c. May 29, and the same figures for April 30; 7¾@8c. March 31; 7¾@8c. Feb. 28; 8¾@9c. Jan. 31, all in the year 1931 and with 8¾@9¼c. Dec. 31 1930, and 11¼c. Oct. 31 1930.

Sugar prices were on the whole well maintained after the rise in August. Cuban raw sugar as against 1.18c. Aug. 26, sold at 1.18@1.20 on Sept. 1 and then weakened so that some sales were made at the equivalent of 1.08c. but there was a recovery the very next day to 1.15c. and the price held pretty steady around that figure the rest of the month, the final sale of the month (Sept. 27) being at the equivalent of 1.14c. c.i.f. There was no change during the month in the wholesale price of refined sugar here in New York, all the leading refineries in this City continuing to quote 4.25c. Havana advices Sept. 26 stated that following the recommendation of the Sugar Institute, the official body controlling the Cuban sugar industry, President Machado had signed on that day a decree extending the period of the 700,000 ton sugar pool to June 30 1933. This sugar, it was stated, would be released for sale prior to that date only if the average market price is at 1½c. for five consecutive days. If this price is not reached before the period expires, a sixth of the pooled sugar will be released each month for six consecutive months. The pool was originally formed by Presidential decree July 2 1932 for six months in an effort to raise sugar prices. Advices received by the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange on Sept. 16 stated that the Cuban Sugar Institute in Havana had decided to accept the offer made to the Cuban sugar industry by the International Sugar Conference held in Ostend some weeks before. Under the Ostend agreement Cuba is permitted to increase its European sugar export quota for 1933 by 150,000 tons, making a total European export quota of approximately 1,000,000 tons. The plan was not accepted by the Cuban delegation to Ostend, but they carried it back to Cuba for a tion by the full membership of the Cuban Institute. Press advices said that rejection would have sounded the death knell of the Chadbourne Plan according to authorities in the sugar trade.

LIVE STOCK PRICES CONTINUE TO RISE, BUT LATER REACT—HOG PRICES MOVE LOWER AND PRICES OF LAMBS TOUCH THE LOWEST FIGURES IN YEARS.

Cattle prices in the week ended Sept. 17 touched the highest figures of the year, fancy steers selling at $10.35 a hundredweight and many sales being made at $10.20 to $10.25. But later in the month a downward reaction occurred. The New York "Times," in a dispatch from Chicago dated Sunday, Oct. 2, discussed the various phases of the livestock movement quite at length and from this we reprint the following excerpts:

Farmers in the West marketed live stock freely in the last month and this materially depressed prices. Shipments here in September were 32% larger than in either of the preceding two months, but dropped 12% as compared with September 1931. Total receipts of all live stock, including horses, for the month were 1,080,000 head, the smallest for September since 1917.

Attractive prices increased the marketing of cattle—an aggregate of 183,000, the largest number since last November, but the smallest for September since 1885. Average arrivals for the last 10 Septembers were 252,000 head. A year ago arrivals were also small at 203,000. Farmers marketed 440,000 hogs in Chicago last month, compared with 482,218 a year ago, the smallest for that month since 1920 with one exception. A year ago receipts were 506,044. The month's average price, $4.05 a 100 pounds, was the lowest since June and compared with $3.35 in May. Last year's September average was $5.55 This year's average for September is the lowest since 1898.

Lambs averaged $4.45 for the month, the lowest with one monthly exception since October 1904, while last year's price was $6.05. These prices do not show that live-stock farmers profited to any great extent.

Prices for live stock in the last month compare favorably with those of recent months, but were among the lowest in history for this season of the year. Fat steers averaged $8.05, the highest monthly average since last November, but was equal to the lowest for a September since 1911. A year ago the average was $8.05.

Cattle prices last week were steady on the best steers with a top of $10.35 for heavies, $10 for yearlings, $8.50 for heifers, and $7.50 for calves. Fancy steers closed the same as a week ago, with other grades in good supply and 25 to 40 cents lower. Butchers' stocks declined 25 cents and stockers and feeders 15 to 25 cents. Average for all steers of $7.60 was 35 cents lower than the previous week and the lowest since the week of July 2. Hogs averaged $3.90 for the week, a decline of 15 cents from the previous week and the lowest since June 1925, but were 10 cents above the low week in June. A year ago the average was $5.15. Fat lambs were 50 cents lower and other sheep and lambs 25 cents net lower at the week's close, compared with the previous week. The week's average of all lambs at $5.15, 20 cents under the previous week, was the lowest since May 1928, and compared with $6.30 last year.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD TO WITHHOLD FROM MARKET UNTIL 1933 REMAINING WHEAT AND COTTON HOLDINGS—FINANCING ARRANGEMENTS WITH RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION.

Announcement was made on Sept. 5 by the Federal Farm Board of its intention to withhold from the market until 1933 its wheat and cotton holdings. Under the arrangement about 350,000 bales of cotton held by the Cotton Stabilization Corporation is to be kept off the market until March 1 1933 (in addition to the cotton held by the Cotton Co-operatives aggregating 1,400,000 bales or more as detailed at length in our review for the month of August and which is to be retained until July 3 1933), and about 3,000,000 bushels of wheat held by the Grain Stabilization Corporation is to be held back until Jan. 1 1933. The following announcement was made late Sept. 5 1932 by the Federal Farm Board:

The Grain Stabilization Corporation announced to-day, with the approval of the Federal Farm Board, that the unsold remainder of its wheat stock (amounting to less than 3,000,000 bushels) will not be reduced by sales before Jan. 1 1933, except such sales of this 3,000,000 bushels as may be made for shipment to foreign countries that otherwise would not be important buyers of United States wheat.

In addition to this 3,000,000 bushels, the Corporation owns a certain amount of futures contracts which serve to absorb part of the usual hedging pressure. The present amount of futures owned will be held at least until after Jan. 1 1933, thereby making a better market for producers than would otherwise exist.

The Farm Board's further announcement, Sept. 5, said:

Details having been completed with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Farm Board for finances, the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and the American Cotton Co-operative Association, make the following announcements each for itself:

1. Of the 650,000 bales of cotton proposed to be marketed by the Cotton Stabilization Corporation prior to July 31 1933, more than 300,000 bales have been sold. The Corporation will immediately withdraw its remaining stocks from sale until March 1 1933, with the exception of certain small amounts now on consignment in foreign countries, and such cotton as may be sold at 12c. per pound or more based on the near month of the New York Cotton Exchange.

2. The American Cotton Co-operative Association will maintain its present stocks of the 1930 crop until July 31 1933, with similar exceptions for sales at the above prices.

3. These steps are being taken and loans obtained so that the cotton growers will get the full benefit of the market for their crop of this year and for the purpose of enabling the organizations to gradually liquidate their holdings during periods when more active demand is anticipated.

On Sept. 5, Associated Press advices from Washington stated:

The Farm Board's definite plan as to its wheat and cotton stocks was made public after a week of negotiations between the Board and the Reconstruction Corporation following announcement that the Corporation had allotted $50,000,000 as a loan to enable the cotton to be withheld.

Chairman Stone to-day returned from a boat trip on Chesapeake Bay with Jesse Jones and Harvey Couch, Directors of the Corporation, and made the announcement soon thereafter in the names of the Farm Board affiliates affected. In making the announcement Chairman Stone declined to discuss the differences of opinion which had stood between the Farm Board and the Reconstruction Corporation.

The Grain Stabilization Corporation's statement that it now held less than 3,000,000 bushels of wheat compared with its holdings of 250,000,000 bushels in July 1931. Congress took 85,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat for the needy.

Holding of all the stabilization stores from the market leaves the Farm Board free to function almost exclusively in the field of sponsoring co-operative marketing.

PLANS FOR SALE TO CHINA OF PRIVATELY-OWNED AMERICAN WHEAT CONSIDERED BY PRESIDENT HOOVER—QUESTION OF FINANCING BY RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION.

Acting on a proposal from China to buy 15,000,000 bushels of wheat, President Hoover on Sept. 25 summoned to the White House Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and members of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Farm Board to consider financing the deal. It was believed a fund of $8,000,000 would be necessary to finance the transaction, said the Washington correspondent of the New York "Journal of Commerce," adding:

Consummation of the sale hinges upon financing it through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or some other Government agency. This would be the first time the Government relief agency has utilized the provisions of the Act to finance the sale of surplus farm commodities abroad.

If the financing can be arranged, Federal Farm Board agencies may enter the wheat market to obtain the wheat for China, whose offer was said to be on a sound basis with financing the only difficulty in the way.

Financing Being Sought.

The Farmers' National Grain Corporation, central marketing agency of farmer co-operatives, agreed to supply the wheat if the Finance Corporation would underwrite the loan. Members of the Finance Corporation were somewhat skeptical of the security offered by China and hesitated to accept the notes of the Chinese Government. The Farmers' National did not believe it should jeopardize the credit of member co-operatives without some agreement of the Finance Corporation or the Farm Board to protect them from loss. It is understood the Finance Corporation will consider further whether to extend the credit desired by wheat co-operatives.

Part of the wheat necessary to fill the Chinese order is held by co-operatives in the Northwest. How much wheat would have to be bought, if the deal is closed, was not determined.

White House conferees were agreed that the Chinese deal, if consummated, would send up the price of wheat, possibly more than 10 cents a bushel. Administration spokesmen expressed the hope that the financial arrangements could be made. The deal has been under consideration by the Farmers' National Grain Corporation for about a week.

Deal Year Ago Recalled.

About a year ago China bought a similar amount of wheat. The Farm Board took notes for payment which are not yet due. The Chinese Government has put aside funds to pay the notes when due and has fulfilled all other parts of its contract, it was said to-night.

The Farm Board has virtually no cash wheat left. A short time ago it announced that 3,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat was yet to be sold. Since then, it is understood, practically all of that has disappeared. The only help the Farm Board could give on the Chinese deal would be to underwrite a part of the loan to the Farmers' National from the former's badly depleted treasury.

On Sept. 26 Associated Press accounts from Shanghai had the following to say:

The sale of 15,000,000 bushels of American wheat or flour to China, a deal involving about $9,000,000 in gold, appeared practically assured to-day as negotiations between the Chinese Government and the Federal Farm Board, begun in June, seemed to be nearing a conclusion.

The arrangement is understood to provide for the purchase by the National Government of at least 15,000,000 bushels in the grain or in flour, with a three-year credit, the payment to be made during the years 1937 to 1939, inclusive, with interest at 4% from the date of signing the contract.

Opposition to the proposed sale of Pacific Northwest wheat to China on a credit basis and financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was voiced at Portland, Ore., by the Portland Merchants' Exchange, representing the private grain dealers. It also met with objections in other quarters.

FARMERS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY ARRANGE FOR HOLIDAYS OR STRIKES IN ORDER TO OBTAIN BETTER PRICES FOR THEIR PRODUCTS—CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS IN IOWA RECOMMEND TO PRESIDENT HOOVER AND CONGRESS TARIFF REVISION, CURRENCY EXPANSION, MORATORIUM ON MORTGAGES AND ON FEED AND SEED LOANS, &C.—MOVE TO INDUCE 2,000,000 FARMERS TO JOIN IOWA FARM STRIKE—MILO RENO CALLS FOR "PROTEST" PARADE WHEN PRESIDENT HOOVER SPEAKS.

The movement of farmers to organize in an effort to obtain higher prices for their products made progress during September. A Conference of Governors of nine mid-West States, held in Sioux City, Sept. 9-11, resulted in the recommendation to President Hoover and Congress that the tariff system be revised to give equality of protection to agricultural products. Other recommendations were: "a sound expansion of the currency which will do justice between debtor and creditor and enhance commodity prices;" the reorganization of the National agricultural credit system "so as to refinance the American farmer at a lower rate of interest," &c. One of the further recommendations proposed that the Department of Agriculture "refrain from any attempts to collect the feed and seed loans during this emergency." The Governors denied the request for an embargo on farm shipments, stating that there is no legal precedent to sustain the attempted power of an embargo. They expressed the belief that the same results can be accomplished by the farmers through voluntary co-operation. Regarding the Conference, Associated Press advices from Sioux City, Sept. 9, said:

A conference of Mid-western Governors and their representatives to-day studied a wide variety of proposals in a quest for a definite program of farm relief. Called by Warren Green, Governor of South Dakota, when picketing activities of the National Farm Holiday Association centered attention on agriculture's fight to obtain prices higher than cost of production, the Executives went into an all-day session to consider the problem.

Nine States, from Minnesota to Oklahoma and from Wyoming to Ohio were represented. Four Governors were present; the others sent representatives.

Hundreds of members of the Farm Holiday Association from Iowa and nearby States congregated at Riverview Park, a short distance from the city, and paraded through the streets. The Governors reviewed them.

Confronting the Governors were proposals for a special session of Congress to consider the problem, for moratoria on farm mortgages, for establishment of freer credit to permit the withholding of farm products for higher prices, for a general embargo to prevent shipment of farm products into urban markets until better price levels are reached, and numerous other remedies.

The conference's morning session was devoted to formation of rules for its conduct. Accredited persons nominated by committees from States represented were permitted to appear before the Governors. After they were heard the executives intended to receive telegrams, statements and suggestions from those unable to be present. The hearings were expected to continue to-morrow and possibly longer.

From the Des Moines "Register" of Sept. 12, we take as follows the statement issued on Sept. 11 by the Governors' Conference embodying their recommendations:

The Governors of North Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota, and the representatives of the Governors of Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Ohio, Wyoming and Nebraska, in response to an invitation by the Governor of South Dakota, assembled in conference with him at Sioux City, Iowa, on Sept. 9 and 10 1932, to discuss conditions affecting the agricultural industry of the Nation and remedies for those conditions.

Agriculture, upon which is dependent the entire prosperity of the Nation, has lost its buying power. The prices it receives for the commodities it produces are less than the cost of production. It is obliged to repay indebtedness incurred during peak years with three times or more the amount of produce commodities that it would have needed for repayment at the time of contracting its obligations.

Because of the loss of the buying power of agriculture, industry has lost a great market and many men and women have lost employment. The restoration of the buying power of agriculture would go far toward restoring general prosperity in the Nation.

A consideration of the problem of the American farmer must involve a consideration of world trade relations. The present tariff does not adequately protect the American farmer in the marketing of his produce and in some instances discriminates against him. No solution can be had of the farm problem without a readjustment of the tariffs.

Then followed the recommendations already referred to. In addition to the four Governors the representatives of other State executives were Ira Mitchell, of Oklahoma; T. S. Allen, of Nebraska; L. T. Oldroyd, of Wyoming; Earl H. Hanefeld, of Ohio and Melvin Reis, of Wisconsin.

Disptaches from Des Moines Sept. 20 stated that coincident with announcement in Washington that President Hoover would talk in that city on the farm situation on Oct. 4, the National Farmers' Holiday Association declared that the strike would be extended on Sept. 21 to include 2,000,000 farmers and would embrace 11 Middle Western States. The dispatches went on to say:

Grain, live stock and other items will be withheld from the market until prices advance to levels considered profitable. In outlining plans for conducting the war on prices on a scale that contemplates stagnating the flow of the necessaries of life throughout the far flung food belt, the recent holiday inaugurated Aug. 8 was referred to and characterized as the "greatest success in agricultural history."

Among the grievances listed as prompting the step are not only receivership prices, it was said, but also the towering structure of debt and inability to get credits because of the intensity of the depression.

States in which the program will be launched to-morrow include Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio and Oklahoma.

"To-morrow the ball starts rolling" was the way the organization announced the new movement. Already it was said that the movement was well under way in several States, listed among which were Minnesota and North Dakota, at Worthington, in the former State, pickets patrolling all highways leading into the city and barring the way of trucks bound to market.

At Moville, Iowa, where Senator Brookhart delivered an address on Sept. 21 advocating governmental control of surplus crops, revision of the money standard and issuance of Treasury notes for veterans' relief and public works, it was stated in Associated Press accounts that more than 2,000 farmers were huddled in a wind-swept lumber yard shed where, driven by the cold and rain they listened to the Iowa Senator berate newspapers, Wall Street and certain administrative officials as adding to agricultural hardships. The press accounts from Moville, Sept. 21 added:

Afterward the farm strikers drew up seven resolutions designed to aid the non-selling movement and settle farm difficulties.

The resolutions demand a special session of Congress to consider relief measures, an effective and immediate moratorium on farm chattel mortgages, an increase in the amount of currency, refinancing of agricultural loans with the refinancing agencies in the hands of farmers, a public construction program, repeal of nuisance taxes, and that farmers receive prices for their commodities equal to the cost of production.

The last is the objective of the farm holiday movement.

The meeting fell on the day in which a concerted movement was begun in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa and Oklahoma to withhold nonperishable products for 30 days. Two million farmers were asked by the National Farm Holiday Association to join in the program, a peaceful drive that does not include picketings and violence which characterized early stages of the farm strike. Farmers in Ohio, Wisconsin, Kansas and Illinois have shown interest in the movement and are expected to join it.

Virtually all picketing had ceased to-day. Around Worthington, Minn., latest focal point of the road blockades, a few members of the Nobles County Farm Holiday Association took to the highways as "observers." They said they hoped to determine what was being shipped and its source. They found no trucks on the highways, however.

The new strike program will permit the movement of perishable farm products, such as eggs, butter and cream. If the general price increase is not noted in 30 days, however, the holiday leaders intend to place these products under the ban also.

On Sept. 22 Associated Press accounts from Des Moines stated:

A demonstration designed by farmers' holiday leaders to impress President Hoover with agriculture's plight was planned to-day for the date on which the Chief Executive opens his campaign here.

Milo Reno, President of the National Farmers' Holiday Association, which instituted the non-selling campaign for higher prices on Aug. 8, and Iowa County Chairman of the movement, discussed arrangements for a parade here of 20,000 farmers on Oct. 4, when the President will deliver an election campaign address.

"The men and women of this State ought to try to educate him," Reno declared, referring to President Hoover. "We have a right to portray the real condition that exists in this country, and we have the right to hold Hoover repsonsible."

President Hoover is a native of Iowa.

The holiday leaders talked of floats for the parade and suggested that one depict an aged farmer and his wife being evicted because of a mortgage foreclosure.

It was indicated that a call will be issued to holiday adherents throughout the Middle West to assemble here on Oct. 4.

Meanwhile the augmented "strike" seemingly was gaining momentum, following a declaration by leaders in 11 States that they would urge farmers to withhold non-perishable commodities from market.

Near Montevideo, Minn., 200 farmers watched seven highways and prevented all farm goods from being trucked to that western Minnesota city.

Despite an official decree that there should be no picketing, members of the Ward County (N. D.) Holiday Association were ready to place outposts on highways.

Produce dealers in other parts of North Dakota said little effect of the embargo was noticed, but holiday leaders said there had not yet been time enough to gauge the results of the "strike," which began on a large scale yesterday.

Livestock dealers in St. Paul, one of the most important markets in this territory, said their receipts were about 10% less than a week ago.

The holiday was in effect in Oklahoma on livestock, grain and cotton, but at Oklahoma City and Muskogee no diminution in receipts attributable to the strike was apparent. Prices were slightly lower than those of a month ago.

According to Associated Press dispatches from Des Moines September 23 farmers at points as widely scattered as Georgia and North Dakota moved to join the selling strike under way in Iowa.

One manifestation of the farmers' movement was the co-operation of the milk producers in different parts of the country with the view to withholding their products from the metropolitan areas. But enumeration of these moves would take altogether too much space.

THE TEXTILE TRADES SHOW LESSENED BUOYANCY, ONE REASON BEING A SHARP BREAK IN THE PRICE OF COTTON—STRIKE OF THE LANCASHIRE OPERATIVES IN GREAT BRITAIN TERMINATED—SILK PRICES REACT.

The textile trades during September showed some slackening from the extreme activity and buoyancy displayed in August, due primarily to a sharp turn downward in the price of cotton, which led to some concessions in the prices of finished goods, although these prices were on the whole well maintained. During August activity had centered largely in unfinished cloths and only a relatively meager improvement occurred in finished lines, while in September the situation in that regard was reversed, finished goods expanding in activity as the volume of sales in unfinished cloths tended somewhat to shrink. The break in the price of cotton came very suddenly and was due entirely, in the first instance, to disappointment felt in the trade at the estimate of the Department of Agriculture of the size of the growing crop. The Department, in its estimate the previous month, had made the crop much smaller than expected, with the result of starting an upward movement in prices of large proportions. In September, on the other hand, (weather conditions during August having continued unfavorable) the trade looked for a further big reduction. Instead of this, the Department estimated the crop at about the same figure as in the previous month. It put the crop now at 11,310,000 bales, as against 11,306,000 bales the previous month, whereas a crop of 10,750,000 bales or less had been looked for. Why the Department's new estimate should have had such a deadening effect on prices was difficult to understand, inasmuch as even at 11,310,000 bales there is a big reduction from the yield of 1931 when the crop, according to the actual ginning returns, reached 17,096,000 bales, the figures in both cases referring to lint cotton and taking no account of linters. The estimate was given out at the noon hour on Thursday, Sept. 8, and the immediate effect was to precipitate a decline in prices of 100 points or more, the spot price being reduced from 9c. a lb. to 7.95c. Nine days later, on Sept. 17, the price was down to 6.80c., more especially because of the development of more favorable weather conditions. It will be noted that the price dropped below 7c. a lb., as compared with 9c. on Sept. 7 and 9.20c. on Aug. 27 and Aug. 29. For a few days the quotation remained below 7c., but then an upward reaction developed, and on Sept. 22 the price was back to 7.55c., but a new break occurred to 7c. Sept. 29; but with a recovery to 7.25c. on Sept. 30. Goods prices naturally weakened as the result of the big drop in the price of the raw material, though these prices held up better than might have been expected under the circumstances. Print cloths at Fall River for 28 inch 64x60 were marked down Sept. 13 from 3¼c. to 3⅛c., and on Sept. 16 were further reduced to 3c. The price of 27 inch 64x60 during the month fell from 3⅛c. to 2⅞c. Sept. 30, and of 30 inch 40x30 7 oz. Osnaburgs from 6c. to 5¾c. Sept. 30.

Aside from the drop in the price of the raw material, the developments during the month in the cotton goods trade were favorable. In particular, reports from Manchester, England on Sept. 23 said that the mill owners had reached an agreement with representatives of the Unions for the termination of the strike of the cotton workers in the Lancashire district. The agreement was a compromise and is said to involve a reduction of about 8 1-3% in the actual earnings of the workers. It affects about 200,000 operatives in the weaving branch of the industry. Work which had been suspended Aug. 27 was quite generally resumed on Sept. 28, following the signing of the agreement. London advices stated that reinstatement of strikers was the issue that precipitated the walk-out rather than the question of wages and working conditions. The operatives demanded the return of jobs to 3,000 Union members who had struck in the spring when employers terminated the wages and hours agreement that had been in effect since 1919 and left individual mills free to conclude wage agreements with their operatives, which privilege some mills availed of by altering wages and hours without waiting for a general agreement in the industry.

The statistical statements for the month of August, as given out during September, reflected the activity in the cotton goods trade which proved such a striking feature during the month referred to. United States Census figures issued Sept. 14, showed that a greatly increased consumption of cotton had taken place by the mills of the United States. The Census reported that 402,601 bales of lint and 47,620 bales of linters had been consumed in this country in August, as against only 278,656 bales of lint and 37,210 bales of linters in July and that the consumption had not fallen much below that for August 1931, when 425,030 bales of lint and 61,807 bales of linters were used by the mills of the country. Still more significant was the fact that two records were broken in the statistical reports issued by the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York and which made their appearance on Sept. 12, the lowest figure for mill stocks ever recorded since comparable statistics became available in January 1928 was combined with the largest sales for any month. In its report the Association stated that stocks on Aug. 31 had declined to 209,407,000 yards, a reduction of 25½% during the month. The previous low record was 239,654,000 yards at the end of February 1932. Production during August amounted to 180,781,000 yards, while billings were 252,623,000 yards, or 139.7% of production during the period. Sales reached a total of 510,531,000 yards, or 282.4% of production during the month. Unfilled orders increased 113.1% to 485,860,000 yards, a figure not equalled in any month since March 1929.

Raw silk prices reacted somewhat after the sharp rise during August. Here in New York Japanese double extra 13-15 deniers were quoted at $1.75@$1.80, Sept. 30, against $2@$2.05, Aug. 31; $1.40@$1.45, July 30; $1.12½@$1.17½, June 30; $1.10@$1.15, May 31; $1.35@$1.40, April 30; $1.50@$1.55, Mar. 31; $1.67½@$1.70, Feb. 29; $1.87½@$1.90, Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90, Dec. 31 1931; $2.20@$2.25, on Nov. 30 and also on Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.70@$4.75 on Jan. 31 1930. In the 20-22 deniers, Japanese crack double extra were quoted at $1.60@$1.65 Sept. 30, against $2.00@$2.05, Aug. 31; $1.45@$1.50, July 30; $1.17½@$1.22½, June 30; $1.10@$1.15, May 31; $1.32½@$1.37½, April 30; $1.42½@$1.47½, March 31; $1.70@$1.80, Feb. 29; $1.95@$2.00, Jan. 30; $1.85@$1.90, Dec. 31 1931; $2.30@$2.32½, Nov. 30; $2.10@$2.15, Oct. 31 1931, and comparing with $4.60@$4.65 on Jan. 31 1930.

The expanding trend in textile production generally was especially notable in the rayon division where shortages, particularly of popular viscose weaving and knitting counts, were reported to be quite acute, and prices, thus fostered, continued on a rising scale. Some of the big rayon producers were reported as having no yarn available for delivery during the remainder of the year. Poundage sales of rayon yarn for the month of August totaled the largest of any month in the history of the industry, barring none, said the current issue of the "Textile Organon," published by the Tubize Chatillon Corp.

Crude rubber showed a further moderate appreciation in price, and ribbed smoked sheets for spot delivery Sept. 30 were quoted at 3⅝@3 11-16c., as against 3 3-16c. Aug. 31; 4⅜c. asked July 30; 2 9-16c. bid and 2 11-16c. asked June 30; 2 11-16c. bid and 2¾c. asked May 31; 3 1-16c. asked April 30; 3 1-16c. bid and 3 3-16c. asked March 31; 3⅝@3 11-16c. Feb. 29; 4 5-16@4 7-16c. Jan. 30; 4 13-16c.@4 15-16c. Dec. 31 1931; 4 5-16@4⅜c. on Nov. 30; 4 9-16@4⅝c. Oct. 31; 4½@4⅝c. Sept. 30; 5@5⅛c. Aug. 31; 5⅝@5¾c. July 31; 6 13-16@6 15-16c. June 30; 6½c. bid May 29; 5⅞@6c. April 30; 6⅞@7c. Mar. 31; 7⅝@7¾c. Feb. 28; 7¾@8c. Jan. 31; 8⅜@8½c. Dec. 31 1930, and 15¾@15⅞c. Feb. 28 1930.

LUMBER INDUSTRY DEVELOPING ACTIVITY—STOCKS STILL CLAIMED TO BE EXCESSIVE AND WARRANTING CONTINUED CURTAILMENT OF PRODUCTION.

One of the distinctive features of the month was the signs of reviving activity in the lumber industry, long dormant. In presenting the figures for the week ended Sept. 24, the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association reported that although orders received at the lumber mills during the week ended Sept. 24 had not been so large as for the previous week, they were well above the average of the year to date and within 3% of the new business of the corresponding week of 1931, according to telegraphic reports to the Association from regional associations covering the operations of leading softwood and hardwood mills. It was also stated that general industry reports indicated more activity in the previous three or four weeks, either in the form of orders or inquiries from lumber consumers, both for factory use and construction, than in many months. The volume of orders, however, though encouraging, in view of the industry's large aggregate stocks, was not sufficient to warrant an increase in production, said the Association. Stocks at the mills, though declining, are still excessive, it was asserted, the report then proceeding as follows:

Orders received last week by the 644 mills reporting to the National Association were 176,754,000 feet, or 53% above production. Production was 115,384,000 feet, or 36% below the corresponding week of 1931, compared with 40% below the previous week.

The percentage relationship of orders above production for the week ended Sept. 24 compares with 68% above, for the previous week, and 26% above for the year to date.

Production was 23% and new business 35% of capacity, compared with 22% and 38% the previous week.

Lumber orders reported for the week ended Sept. 24 1932 by 473 softwood mills totaled 162,261,000 feet, or 49% above the production of the same mills. Shipments as reported for the same week were 145,069,000 feet, or 33% above production. Production was 109,184,000 feet.

Reports from 187 hardwood mills give new business as 14,493,000 feet, or 134% above production. Shipments as reported for the same week were 14,218,000 feet, or 129% above production. Production was 6,200,000 feet.

IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY REMAIN DEPRESSED—SOME OF THE NON-FERROUS METALS GO LOWER.

The iron and steel industry, like the other so-called heavy industries, remained depressed, though an encouraging feature was a slight increase in the production of steel, the mills of the country being engaged to 17½% of capacity at the close of the month against 14% at the close of the previous month, and the "Iron Age" in its issue of Sept. 29, stated that it was significant that most of the gain at Chicago, which accounted for the greater part of the total incraese, had come principally in orders from the miscellaneous group of buyers, including many small shops, with the major steel consuming industries contributing less than their normal portion to the better tonnage, a situation that prevailed in fact throughout the country. Major industries, however, were expected to become more of a factor in the steel market within the next 30 to 60 days. The "Iron Age" made the composite price of finished steel Sept. 27 1.965c. a lb. against 1.964 a month earlier and comparing with 2.014c. at the corresponding period of the previous year. The composite priceof pig iron was given as $13.64 per gross ton, the same as a month earlier, but comparing with $15.42 in the corresponding period of 1931. The composite price of steel scrap improved and was $7.75 per gross ton Sept. 27, as against $7.42 a month previous, and $9 in the corresponding period of 1931.

In the case of the non-ferrous metals the price of lead in this city was marked down Sept. 20 from 3.60c. to 3.50c.; then to 3.40c. on Sept. 21 and to 3.30 Sept. 26, and to 3.00c. on Sept. 28. The price of tin moved irregularly within a narrow range, though with the trend upward and with the quotation in this market on Sept.30 24.50c. against 23.80c. on Aug. 31. The price of copper moved fractionally higher, at the beginning of the month and remained steady thereafter. Lake copper was marked up Sept. 1 from 5¾c. to 5⅞c., then to 6⅛c. Sept. 2 and to 6⅜c. on Sept. 7, but on Sept. 28 reduced to 6¼c. Electrolytic copper was marked up from 5½c. to 5⅝c. Sept. 1; then to 5¾c. Sept. 2 and to 6c. Sept. 7.

PETROLEUM AND ITS PRODUCTS—FURTHER SHARP REDUCTION IN GASOLINE PRICES.

Unfavorable conditions again developed in the oil industry during September. On Sept. 28 the Standard Oil Co. of New York reduced the tank wagon and service station prices of gasoline 1c. a gallon in the New York Metropolitan district, Long Island, Westchester, Connecticut, Albany and Buffalo. In Boston a reduction of 1½c. a gallon was made. Other leading gasoline distributors in the same localities made similar reductions. The reduction by the Standard Oil of New York followed cuts throughout a large section of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. There were also some reductions in crude oil the early part of the month. In the following we show the important changes during September in the prices of both crude oil and the refined products.

Crude Oil.

Sept. 13.—South Penn Oil Co. posts 15c. per barrel reduction in all Pennsylvania crudes, with exception of Corning.

Sept. 13.—Tide Water Oil Co. reduces Bradford district, Pa., crude 15c. per barrel, new price $1.87.

Gasoline and Kerosene.

Sept. 1.—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey reduces discount to commission retail agents in New Jersey ½c. a gallon to 2½c.

Sept. 12.—Standard of New Jersey reduces bunker fuel oil 10c. a barrel at New York, Boston, Baltimore and Norfolk, new price 75c ; Charleston, S. C., 70c.; Baton Rouge and New Orleans, 60c.

Sept. 13.—Standard of New Jersey reduces bunker fuel oil 10c. to 60c. a barrel at Baytown, Texas City, Harbor Island, Ingleside, Galveston, and Houston.

Sept. 15.—Standard of Indiana reduces service station price of regular and premium grades 2c. a gallon in Chicago and Minneapolis, and third grade ½c. in the latter city. Red Crown Ethyl and Standard Red Crown reduced 1.8c. in Des Moines, Iowa, and Standard Red Crown reduced 1.7c. in St. Joseph, Mo.

Sept. 23.—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey revises gasoline prices downward, tank wagon and service station prices being reduced 3.3c. throughout territory with exception of New Jersey, where reduction was 2.2c., and in Delaware, where no change was made. Tank car gasoline prices reduced 2¾c. to 6c. for spot above 65 octane, less ½c. on contract, and 5¼c. for below 65 octane. Gulf meets new price schedule.

Sept. 26.—Atlantic Refining Co. reduces service station and tank wagon gasoline prices 1c. a gallon in Delaware, eastern Pennsylvania and metropolitan Philadelphia, and 1½c. in western Pennsylvania.

Sept. 26.—Standard Oil Co. of Pennsylvania reduces tank wagon and service station gasoline price 1c. in eastern Pennsylvania and metropolitan Philadelphia, and 1½c. in western Pennsylvania.

Sept. 28.—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio reduces all grades of gasoline ½c. a gallon throughout territory. With the exception of localities where prices have been adjusted to meet local conditions, Sohio Ethyl is now 20c., X70 is 17c. and Renown green gasoline 16c., all including tax at service stations.

Sept. 28.—Standard Oil Co. of New York reduces gasoline 1c. a gallon tank wagon and service station throughout metropolitan New York, Long Island, Westchester and Connecticut. Same reduction applies also in Buffalo and Albany. Reduction at Boston is 1½c. a gallon. New prices met by leading refiners.

Sept. 29.—Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky reduces gasoline prices ½c. a gallon throughout Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and Mississippi.

Sept. 29.—Standard of Indiana cuts regular and premium gasoline 2c. a gallon at Aurora and Joliet, Ill.

Efforts to curtail the flow of oil continued. The allowable oil production of California for the month of October was set at 448,200 barrels daily, by the executive committee for the equitable curtailment of oil production in that State. The previous allowable production had been 475,600 barrels daily, while the actual production had run up to 477,400 barrels. In Oklahoma, Governor W. H. Murray called out the militia on Sept. 21 and put the oil fields once more under martial law. This was done to put down an insurrection of some oil men in Oklahoma City against the curb by the Governor on production. In Texas the Railroad Commission early in the month temporarily ordered that part of the West Panhandle natural gas field east of Burnett Ranch to be completely shut in. The remainder of the field is allowed to produce up to 4% of potential open flow. The small needs of nearby communities must be provided for out of the 4% limit. The Commission also placed a limit of 240 barrels on the daily production of each oil well in the Gulf Coast area, effective from Sept. 15. The order provides that all wells located in fields that have an average daily production of 3,000 barrels or more shall be restricted to 90% of their former production, except that none shall be allowed to exceed the 240-barrel limit. At the same time a new 15-day order for the East Field limited the daily production of wells in that field to 46 barrels. This was explained as being designed to keep the total field within the 375,000 barrel daily production figure. The former East Texas allowable was 50 barrels for the first half of September and had been down to 43 barrels daily in August.

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS—GERMANY POSTPONES DEBT PAYMENT TO UNITED STATES—ALSO POLAND, ESTONIA, LATVIA.

Intergovernmental debts assumed a prominent place in discussions of world financial affairs in September, partly because several European countries found it advisable to notify the United States Government of postponements under the debt agreements, and partly because of growing conjecture regarding the possible procedure of the British, French and other leading governments late this year. Ever since the Hoover moratorium on intergovernmental debts expired on June 30 last, speculation has been rife on this matter. The first formal action in the new situation was taken Sept. 14, when representatives of Estonia, Latvia and Poland notified the United States Treasury that advantage will be taken of the option in the debt funding agreements for a two-year delay in payments of principal amounts due Dec. 15. The notification was given in accordance with the requirement for 90 days' advance notice. The payments to be postponed by this means next December amount to $1,252,000, the respective sums due being $1,125,000 from Poland, $90,000 from Estonia and $37,000 from Latvia. Larger interest payments are due at the same time, but these are not postponable under the funding agreements.

There was talk from time to time of German action on a payment of 33,050,000 marks ($7,840,000) due Sept. 30, and postponement of the payment of this sum also was arranged in the final days of the month. Negotiations between Secretary Mills and Rudolph Leitner, the German Charge d'Affaires in Washington, were reported early in September regarding this payment, but no conclusions were announced at the time. On Sept. 28, however, Secretary Mills announced formally that he had waived the requirements for 90 days' notification and had agreed to a postponement at the request of the German authorities. It was indicated that the German Ambassador had broached the subject of postponement on June 30 last, two days before the expiration of the 90-day notification period. At the suggestion of the Secretary notification was withheld, assurances being given that the requirements would be waived later should the German Government decide not to meet the payment. The arrangement effected provides for a two year delay in the payment of 12,650,000 marks on account of the costs of the American army of occupation, and a 2½-year delay in the payment of 20,400,000 marks due on judgments by the Mixed Claims Commission.

The general question of intergovernmental debts was discussed with especial animation as Sept. 17 neared this having been the latest date for formal notification by Britain and other prominent debtors of postponement. Complete silence was maintained on the subject officially, and no request was made in such quarters. It was pointed out in reports from London that Britain could have requested delay in the payment of £8,000,000 principal due Dec. 15, but France, on the other hand, would gain nothing by asking postponement since the entire sum due from that country next December is on account of interest. It was remarked in a number of London press dispatches that the lack of formal notification does not necessarily mean that the British Government expects to pay the amount due next December. The British are placing vague but unmistakable reliance upon a general war debts moratorium, which they somehow expect from Washington after the election, the London reports indicated. Significant also of the British viewpoint was the fact that the British budget contains no provision for the debt payment due the United States.

THE FRENCH BOND CONVERSION.

Following the lead of the British Government, France essayed in the week from Sept. 19 to Sept. 24 an exceptionally large and sweeping bond conversion operation designed to reduce the interest cost on the National debt by approximately $51,000,000 annually. The transaction involved French Government obligations amounting to 85,692,000,000 francs ($3,427,680,000) carrying coupons of 5 to 7%, which were called for redemption Nov. 1, next. Holders were offered 4½% rentes in exchange, the new issue to be amortizable in 75 years and not callable before Jan. 1 1939. Application for cash reimbursement was required within six days after the law was declared in effect, and the results of the offer were thus ascertainable in a very short time. The transaction was a complete success, according to announcements made Sept. 25 by Premier Edouard Herriot and Finance Minister Louis Germain-Martin. The latter indicated that the great majority of holders assented to the conversion and that cash redemptions will not greatly exceed 4,000,000,000 francs. Cash subscription to the new 4½% issue amounted to 2,000,000,000 francs, leaving the Government to find only 2,000,000,000 francs for the final cash payments. As there is more than enough cash in the sinking funds to meet this demand, the conversion will occasion no further financing by the French Government.

Although this conversion scheme was rumored some time in advance, actual details were carefully guarded and disclosed only in the legislation introduced by the Government late Sept. 16. The conversion bill authorized the Minister of Finance to reimburse holders of French 5s of 1915 and 1916, 6s of 1920, 6s of 1927, 5s of 1928 and 7s of 1927, with the alternative of conversion into the 4½% rentes. The conversion was at par, plus a reimbursement premium on the 6s and 7s. Holders of the new 4½s will receive all privileges now attached to 3% perpetual rentes, and they will thus secure, on such holdings, exemption from all taxes. Personnel, printing and other costs of the operation were estimated at 20,000,000 francs, and this sum was included in the 1932 budget. When introducing the legislation, Premier Herriot assured the Chamber of Deputies that the operation was a necessary one and that sections of the French population other than the rentiers will be called upon in subsequent measures to make contributions to French financial reconstruction. Government spokesmen in the Senate indicated that reductions in the salaries of Government employees are contemplated as a further measure toward meeting the budgetary deficit of nearly 10,000,000,000 francs ($400,000,000) indicated in the official figures. The measure was accepted late Sept. 16 by the Chamber by a vote of 540 to 48, while the Senate approved the measure the following day by a vote of 291 to 9. It was placed in effect at the start of business Sept. 19 and the transaction was completed by the following Saturday.

THE QUESTION OF DISARMAMENT—GERMANY'S DEMAND FOR EQUALITY IN ARMS.

In the political realm the question of disarmament was the most eagerly debated during September, owing to the unsettling aftermath of the German Government's attempt of Aug. 29 to inaugurate private conversations with the French Government on the disarmament differences between these two governments. The fact that a German aide memoire suggesting continuance of the previous Geneva conversations between representatives of the governments had been sent to Paris was promptly made known, and alarmist reports emanating from Paris led to the widespread impression that an imperative demand had been made by Germany for the right to re-arm immediately to the full equality with other countries. In view of such intimations the German Government published the full text of the aide memoire on Sept. 6. It suggested confidential conversations as the best means of settling this vexing problem, and added that other governments concerned should be informed in due course. The Berlin Government contended that the proposed Geneva convention falls far short of the disarmament demands of the Versailles treaty. For the time being it was suggested that certain modifications in Germany's armaments status be permitted, and a few broad hints were thrown out regarding categories of arms, terms of enlistment and nature of defenses. It was again explained that the Reich's demand for equality in arms could be attained in the simplest way by the disarmament of other countries "to a level which, in keeping with the special situation in each country," corresponds in character and extent to the armament status imposed on Germany.

The French rejoinder was handed to the Berlin Government Sept. 11. It challenged the German contentions that the methods and probable results of the General Disarmament Conference will be inadequate and held that only the Council of the League of Nations could deal with the German request for adjustments. The application for private discussions was accordingly declined. The British Government, aware of the course of the discussion, attempted to mediate and Prime Minister MacDonald is understood to have suggested to France a conference of leading Powers on the German request, so that a joint policy could be formulated. The British offer was also denied by France. In this situation the German Government sent an official notification to Arthur Henderson as President of the Disarmament Conference, Sept. 15, that Germany would be unable to attend further sessions of the Bureau of the Conference. When the text of this note was published, Sept. 16, it appeared that Germany left a wide loophole for possible further collaboration in the work of the Disarmament Conference. The Government, it was stated, will follow the labors of the Conference with interest and determine its further attitude by the course they may take. Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the German Foreign Minister, indicated at the same time that no reply would be made to the French memorandum.

The British Government, concerned with the possible effects of this exchange on the preceedings at Geneva, found it advisable to make a public statement on its own attitude toward the German request. In an announcement of Sept. 18, France was in general upheld and Germany censured for re-opening the question at the present difficult juncture and for threatening to re-arm unless other countries come down to its level of armaments. The admission was made that Germany has a moral right to end the status of inferiority imposed on her and other States by the peace treaties, but it was held that the German demands could not be met by peremptory challenge or by withdrawal from deliberations about to be resumed. This pronouncement was said in Berlin dispatches to have caused "painfull surprise" in German diplomatic quarters, but the intention of Wilhelmstrasse to refrain from further participation in the Disarmament Conference work was reiterated. There were reports from Paris that American representatives there had expressed opposition to the German attitude, but these were discountenanced in a statement issued by President Hoover, Sept. 20. The statement was considered in unofficial circles a virtual appeal to Germany to return to Geneva for further conversations on disarmament. It was made clear that the United States is not involved in the specific German demand for equality of status, as the Versailles treaty is solely a European question. Mr. Hoover reiterated, however, that this country favors arms reduction in general and he expressed anxiety that Germany continue its participation in the work at Geneva. This endeavor also was fruitless, however, and German delegates did not attend the resumed sessions of the Bureau late last month.

RIFT IN BRITISH CABINET—FREE TRADE MEMBERS RETIRE.

Of primary interest in European politics was a distinct rift within the British Cabinet over the tariff policy of the preponderantly Conservative National Government. Three traditional free traders announced their resignations Sept. 28, and they were replaced in the two following days by Ministers who favor the more extensive application of import duties. Viscount Snowden of Ickhornshaw, Lord Privy Seal in the Cabinet, and lifelong associate of Prime Minister MacDonald in the British Labor movement, led the revolt against the new Imperial trade policy. Sir Herbert Samuel, the Home Secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Scotland, also resigned, both these Ministers being members of the Liberal faction led by David Lloyd George in previous days. Every attempt was made by the London Government to minimize the incident and maintain the national character of the Cabinet. The places were quickly filled, Stanley Baldwin, the former Conservative Prime Minister, accepting the post of Lord Privy Seal, which he will hold in addition to that of Lord President of the Council. Sir John Gilmour, who held the portfolio of Agriculture and Fisheries, was appointed Home Secretary, and his place was taken by Walter E. Elliot, Conservative. Sir Godfrey Collins, Liberal, was appointed Secretary for Scotland. In their letter of resignation the three Ministers declared that the national emergency calling for formation of a national Cabinet had passed and they expressed their inability to collaborate further in view of the determination of the Government to push through legislation designed to place the Ottawa agreements in effect. Viscount Snowden issued a personal statement in which he expressed similar sentiments in a bitter and sarcastic vein. Prime Minister MacDonald countered with a statement declaring that a united front still is necessary and will be until the problems of reparations and war debts had been settled and the world economic conference held.

GERMAN REICHSTAG AGAIN DISSOLVES.

Acute unsettlement in the German political situation was manifested when the newly elected Reichstag assembled Sept. 12 for its first business session. Chancellor Franz von Papen and Defense Minister Kurt von Schleicher, who are the leaders of the Cabinet appointed by President Paul von Hindenburg, had a decree of dissolution in their hands when they appeared in the Reichstag to attend the first ordinary Parliamentary session. This was due to the inability of the Cabinet heads to reach an agreement with the Nazi leader, Adolph Hitler, regarding support of the Junker regime. The effort to preserve a semblance of parliamentary government in Germany quickly dissolved in the stress of the meeting, and the decree of dissolution was placed in force with unexpected swiftness.

When it assembled the Reichstag was promptly faced by a demand on the part of a Communist leader for a vote on a motion to set aside recent emergency decrees and on a motion of no confidence in the Government. The objections of a single Deputy would have sufficed to prevent this hasty procedure, but there were no objections and a division was ordered by Captain Hermann Goering, the Nazi leader and President of the Reichstag. Before the vote could be taken, Chancellor von Papen laid the dissolution decree on the speakers' table. Government representatives must be heard at any time under the constitution, but Captain Goering preferred to ignore the decree and the division was taken. It disclosed that 513 Deputies had voted against the Chancellor, while only 32 upheld the regime. There was some dispute, subsequently, regarding the validity of the respective actions by the Reichstag and the Cabinet, but it was quickly established that the Cabinet procedure was the correct one, and it was announced soon thereafter that new Parliamentary elections will be held in Germany on Nov. 6, while the Reichstag to be elected at that time will assemble for its first meeting not more than 30 days thereafter. The political significance of the Reichstag vote was never questioned, despite the legal doubt regarding the procedure.

JAPAN EXTENDS RECOGNITION TO HER VASSAL STATE OF MANCHUKUO IN MANCHURIA.

Much concern was occasioned by the formal recognition which Japan extended her vassal State of Manchukuo, in Manchuria. A treaty was signed in the capital, Changchun, which carried with it the much debated recognition of the new political entity which Japanese troops carved out of the Chinese Republic. An elaborate ceremony was arranged for this occasion, Japanese representatives stating that Japan and Manchukuo are interdependent and are bound to stand or fall together. Japan received in the treaty arrangements all the rights in Manchuria which Tokio long debated with the Nanking Government. The two countries also agreed to co-operate for the maintenance of national security, and Japan received the privilege of stationing all the troops she desires in the new country. No other country followed Japan in recognition of the new State, nor were any official comments available anywhere at the time.

UNSETTLEMENT IN LATIN AMERICA.

Political unsettlement was pronounced in Latin America during September, wars and revolutions prevailing in a number of places. The most serious conflict was that between Paraguay and Bolivia over the boundary lines of the Gran Chaco area, which have been in dispute nearly a century. Overt acts last summer brought about a war which is none the less real because it remains informal. In obvious deference to the commitments of the two countries in the League of Nations, and as adherents to the Kellogg-Briand pact, war remains undeclared, but fighting is in progress on a scale involving large armies. The struggle centered throughout the month at Fort Boqueron, a remote outpost in the forest area which was captured by Bolivian troops last summer from the Paraguayans. An army of 6,000 to 7,000 Paraguayans laid siege to the fort, which finally capitulated late in September after the 2,000 Bolivian defenders had been subjected to extreme rigors of hunger and thirst. Bolivian armies equal in strength to the Paraguayan forces were mobilized to relieve the fort, but counter moves by the Paraguayans prevented relief and the two sides are now manoeuvering for position in what promises to be a deadly and protracted struggle.

Almost equally disturbing was the Constitutionalist uprising in the State of Sao Paulo, Brazil, which engaged huge armies of Federal and rebel troops. Here, also, fighting was in progress on a vast scale. There were reports late in September that the rebels were ready to make terms and they were subsequently confirmed. Chile was the scene of a further swift revolt, Sept. 13, when airplanes were used to force the resignation of Provisional President Carlos G. Davila. General Bartolome Blanche was placed in the office of Chief Executive to succeed the former Ambassador to the United States, who organized a Socialist State in Chile earlier this year. A small revolt developed in Peru early in September, owing to political differences regarding the recent elections. The trouble was settled by arrangements for new Presidential elections, to be held Oct. 30 and 31. There was, finally, a distinct threat of war between Colombia and Peru, occasioned by Peruvian occupation of the small Amazon River port of Leticia on Sept. 1. The action was an informal one of Peruvian citizens, but it started a bitter and truculent controversy which threatened to eventuate in war when the two Governments voted large war funds.

MEETING OF THE ASSEMBLY OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Some of the perturbing political problems were faced by the League of Nations late last month, when the Assembly, the Council and the Bureau of the General Disarmament Conference resumed their several discussions. As the meetings opened, gloomy predictions were heard on all sides in Geneva, as the lack of action had occasioned steady dwindling of the prestige of the League. Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Free State, opened the Assembly meeting Sept. 26 and he warned the 56 member States there assembled that "complaint, criticism and suspicion" were growing throughout the world regarding the League activities. The Assembly and the Council, which began its meetings Sept. 23, nevertheless took no action of note in any situation save the Bolivian-Paraguayan dispute. In this case reminders were sent to the two countries of their obligations under the Covenant, while formal approval was expressed of the efforts toward peaceful settlement being made by the Commission of Neutral Nations in Washington. The Disarmament Conference Bureau, composed of the representatives of 19 countries, gathered to formulate plans for further progress in the General Conference, but no action was taken in view of the German withdrawal. Bureau meetings were postponed until Oct. 10, when a session of the General Commission will be called. This requires advance notification of one month, so that disarmament progress is not looked for in the formal sessions. There are signs, however, that diplomatic consideration of the new state of affairs is in progress among the largest Powers.

THE LYTTON REPORT ON MANCHURIA.

Especial importance attached, however, to the publication in Geneva, Oct. 2, of the long-awaited Lytton report on Manchuria. The League inquiry commission, headed by the British Earl of Lytton, was known to have rendered a report adverse to Japan, and the document is believed to have hastened recognition of Manchukuo by Tokio. The actual report condemns Japan in stronger terms than was anticipated. The Lytton Commission found unanimously that Japan had not exhausted peaceful means of settling her grievances with China and that military action was taken in Manchuria on insufficient grounds. It was intimated that the Manchukuo Government is a vassal State of Japan, whose existence disregards the wishes of the people of Manchuria. The maintenance and recognition of the existing state of affairs in Manchuria was described as "not compatible with the fundamental principles of existing international obligations." Detailed recommendations were appended for settlement of the Manchurian dispute, but this procedure was made dependent on Manchuria remaining definitely under Chinese sovereignty. Reports from Tokio indicated that the Japanese Government considered its stand irrevocable. In Washington the report was viewed as coinciding broadly with many points of the position taken by the United States in the Manchurian dispute.

THE SEPTEMBER FINANCING OF THE U. S. TREASURY.

The usual unqualified success attended the September financing of the United States Treasury. It consisted of the offering of $750,000,000, "or thereabouts," of 5-year 3¼% Treasury notes and $400,000,000, "or thereabouts," of 1-year Treasury certificates of indebtedness bearing only 1¼% interest per annum. In this instance, as we shall presently see, the reservation "or thereabouts" was freely availed of, as both issues were heavily oversubscribed and the Treasury in making allotments accepted aggregate subscriptions considerably in excess of the nominal offerings. Subscription books for the new issues were opened on Tuesday, Sept. 6 (Monday, Sept. 5, having been Labor Day and a holiday), and were closed before the close of business on that day, both issues having been, as already stated, heavily oversub-scribed, and, as a matter of fact, both issues immediately sold at a fractional premium. Both issues were dated Sept. 15 1932, the certificates being due Sept. 15 1933, and the Treasury notes Sept. 15 1937. Neither issue is subject to call for redemption prior to maturity. The Treasury announced that it would accept in payment for the new notes and certificates of indebtedness at par Treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing Sept. 15 1932, and that subscriptions in payment of which such Treasury certificates were tendered would be given preferred allotment. Payment had to be made on or before Sept. 15 1932. For the $750,000,000 of 3¼% 5-year Treasury notes the subscriptions aggregated $4,351,749,900, of which $3,943,310,900 were cash subscriptions and $408,439,000 were exchange subscriptions. The amount allotted on this issue was $834,401,500, of which $408,439,000 consisted of exchange subscriptions which were allotted in full. For the $400,000,000 of one-year Treasury certificates at 1¼% interest the subscriptions aggregated $3,069,449,000, of which $2,874,292,000 were cash subscriptions and $195,157,000 were exchange subscriptions which were allotted in full. The allotments on this issue aggregated $451,447,000, of which $195,157,000 consisted of exchange subscriptions. It will be noted that the subscriptions for the two issues combined footed up $7,421,198,900 and that the combined allotments aggregated $1,285,848,500, or $135,848,500 in excess of the nominal offering of $1,150,000,000. Of the allotments, $603,596,000 consisted of exchange subscriptions.

There was nothing strange about the avidity with which these new Government issues were gobbled up, and especially in the heavy subscription for the five-year Treasury notes. Both issues are entirely exempt from all taxes, even the surtaxes, and as income taxes were further increased at the last session of Congress, that is a consideration of no mean importance. A five-year obligation of the United States bearing 3¼% interest and free of all income taxes is about as choice an investment as can be found. Besides this, the offering circular for both the five-year Treasury notes and the one-year Treasury certificates of indebtedness contained the customary declaration, saying: "Any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for notes (or certificates) allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits." This meant that payment, at least for the time being, could be made by book credit instead of the transfer of actual funds. The New York "Herald Tribune," in its financial column on Thursday, Sept. 8, pointed out that many institutions had subscribed for far more of the issue than they really wanted in the hope that the percentage allotments would bring them the amounts they actually desired; also, that there was a single subscription for $400,000,000, and that computations indicated that eight banks together had subscribed for more than the entire $1,150,000,000 of the two offerings. Be that as it may, in the advantages attending subscriptions, as just enumerated, there was obviously the strongest inducement for wishing to obtain the largest amount of the new issues that could be had.

As it happened, the member banks putting in subscriptions got a larger use of the Government deposits growing out of subscriptions than seemed likely at the time. When a bank pays for subscriptions with credit on its books these credits take the shape of Government deposits, against which the member banks are not required to hold any reserves, a circumstance which makes such Government deposits especially desirable. In the case of the immediately preceding issues of new Treasury obligations the call for a portion of the Government deposits thus established followed close upon the heels of the creation of the same. Not so in this instance. The "Monthly Review" of the New York Federal Reserve Bank for Oct. 1 tells us that on Sept. 15 a total of $713,000,000 of Treasury certificates matured, and of these $604,000,000 were exchanged for the new Government obligations, leaving only $109,000,000 of certificates to be redeemed in cash. Furthermore, cash subscriptions to the new obligations were unusually large, so that the Treasury, instead of having a substantial excess of disbursements over receipts, as frequently happens at the quarterly tax dates, actually had larger credit balances at the Reserve banks on Sept. 15 than on the previous day. Subsequently income tax collections provided for Treasury disbursements, including requirements of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, so that no withdrawals of Government funds from depositary banks were made between Sept. 7 and the end of the month. This means that none of the Government deposits growing out of the September offerings of Treasury obligations, which amounted to $278,779,249 in the New York Federal Reserve District, and to $563,944,000 in the country at large, including New York, was encroached upon. Not only that, but the fact is that a considerable portion of the Government deposits resulting from the sales of the two series of Treasury notes put out during July also remained at the disposal of the Treasury. These two July series of notes were in amount of $325,000,000 each, or $650,000,000 for the two combined, but the allotments aggregated $710,430,600, and the deposits resulting from the same aggregated $504,000,000, of which $238,199,600 were on deposit in the New York Federal Reserve District. The last of the drafts of this body of deposits was made on Sept. 1 and called for the payment of $18,224,700 on Sept. 7, for the country at large, and leaving $195,277,000 still on credit to the Government. It remains to be said that on Sept. 29 the Treasury called for repayment on Oct. 4 of $16,402,200 (of which $7,745,700 was in the New York Federal Reserve District). It was then reported that this still left $742,818,800 of deposits to the credit of the Government, of which $354,817,906 remained on deposit with the banks in the New York Federal Reserve District. These figures, however, included the deposits growing out of the Treasury obligations put out in September.

It deserves to be pointed out that of the $1,285,000,000 of new obligations put out, as above indicated, $712,500,000 went to take up maturing issues of certificates, leaving a net addition to the Government debt in the sum of, roughly, $573,000,000 to meet the needs of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and to make good ordinary budget deficits.

There was also one offering during September of Treasury bills sold on a discount basis. Notice of this was given on Sept. 21. It consisted of a new issue of 91-day Treasury bills to the amount of $100,000,000. Tenders were received up to 2 p. m. Eastern Standard time on Monday, Sept. 26. The proceeds of the sale were to be used to retire $100,466,000 of Treasury bills maturing Sept. 28, and hence involved no addition to the public debt. The bills were dated Sept. 28, and made to mature on Dec. 28 1932. Payment for the new bills was required on Sept. 28. The offering brought tenders aggregating $412,510,000, of which $100,665,000 were accepted. The average price realized by the Treasury was 99.941, or an average rate on a bank discount basis of about 0.23% per annum. In other words, the Government was obliged to pay less than ¼ of 1% per year on this class of borrowing. This rate of 0.23% per annum compared with the average of 0.32% at the offering of $100,000,000 of Treasury bills (the allotments actually were $100,500,000) on Aug. 29, and established a new low record for borrowing on that type of Treasury security, the best previous price having been established the previous May, when the Treasury placed $60,050,000 of 91-day Treasury bills, dated May 25, on a discount basis of 0.29% per annum.

NEW SECURITY ISSUES AND DIVIDENDS IN SEPTEMBER.

Foreign financing in the domestic market comprised the following offerings:

$60,000,000 Dominion of Canada.—4% coupon notes at a price of 100 and int. and due Oct. 1 1933. Reoffered at par and accrued int. by Chase Harris Forbes Corp., of New York.

2,500,000 Canadian Pacific Ry.—The National City Co., Chase Harris Forbes Corp. and Wood, Gundy & Co. have sold at a price, payable in U. S. funds, to yield about 6% in U. S. funds at the current rate of exchange, a block of $2,500,000 conv. 10-year 6% collateral trust bonds, due March 15 1942. The block represents the total unsold balance of an issue of $12,500,000 originally offered in the Canadian market in March of this year. The offering price is equivalent to a price of 101 in Canada.

Domestic offerings during the month of September were few in number and, as in previous months, consisted of public utility and municipal financing. One issue of size was the $4,000,000 offering of the California-Oregon Power Co.'s 6½% series, ref. mtge. gold bonds at 93 and int., to yield over 7.50%.

The offerings of $2,000,000 or over for September comprised the following:

$4,000,000 California-Oregon Power Co.—Ref. mtge. 6½% series gold bonds at 93 and int., to yield over 7.50% and due May 1 1942. By Chase Harris Forbes Corp.; H. M. Byllesby & Co., Inc.; W. C. THE COURSE OF THE STOCK MARKET DURING SEPTEMBER.

In September the stock market showed a reactionary tendency. During the first eight days of the month the course of prices was still upward, but after that a sharp decline occurred. In this reactionary period, which began for the market as a whole about Sept. 9, prices zigzagged a great deal, now moving up and then down, but with two or three periods of bad breaks. A variety of reasons was responsible for the downward movement. In the first place, the swing upward during July and August and the first eight days of September had been of unusual dimensions, constituting indeed one of the most notable advances in Stock Exchange history. This will appear when we say that in the case of the 25 railroad stocks which form the basis of the daily and monthly averages kept by the New York "Times," there had been a rise in the average from 10.34 July 8 to 33.48 Sept. 8, and that the 25 industrial stocks showed a rise from an average of 57.62 July 8 to 111.28 Sept. 8, while the average for the 50 stocks combined jumped from 33.98 to 72.38 Sept. 8. The extent of the downward reaction, as well as the rally which occurred the latter part of the month, will be seen when it is noted that the 25 railroad stocks, after dropping from 33.48 Sept. 8 to 23.35 Sept. 15, closed Sept. 30 at 28.68. The 25 industrial stocks, in turn, dropped from the high of 111.28 Sept. 8 to 91.19 Sept. 15, with the close Sept. 30 at 101.35. For the 50 stocks combined, the average fell from 72.38 Sept. 8 to 57.27 Sept. 15, with the close Sept. 30 at 65.01. In further explanation of the sharp reversal of the course of Stock Exchange values during September, the fact must be borne in mind that there was a weakening in one of the main influences upon which the sensational rise from July 8 to Sept. 8 was based. That rise was predicated upon an improvement in commodity values, and especially in some of the leading agricultural products. With that as a foundation confidence in an early recovery in the long-continued depression in trade sprang up. During September, unfortunately, some leading commodity prices again turned downward. This was especially true in the case of wheat and cotton, the one the leading money crop of the West and the other the leading money crop of the South. Accordingly, confidence in an early recovery in general business again lessened, and, as a matter of fact, signs of trade recovery, if they were not altogether lacking, certainly did not reveal any tendency to multiply or to become more pronounced. The manufacture of raw steel continued at an abnormally low level, and, though there was, as the month progressed, some slight increase in the same, it was, after all, limited to the single fact that at the end of the month the steel mills of the country were engaged to 17½% of capacity as against 14% at the beginning of the month. In the textile trade, where a very definite and a notable revival of activity had occurred in August, some quieting down was occasioned in September by the renewed decline in the price of cotton, though on the whole there was only a slight abatement of the feeling of buoyancy which had developed in that trade.

Then political considerations and political developments came in as a disturbing influence to unsettle the stock market, or at least to disturb the equanimity of the great body of the trading element. One conspicuous instance of this appeared when news came on Tuesday, Sept. 13, of the results of the State election in Maine the day before. This showed that the Republican party had sustained a severe defeat, losing the Governorship for the first time in 18 years and losing also two out of the three Congressional seats to which Maine is entitled under the new reapportionment of Congressional seats; two years previously the State had a representation of four Congressmen, all of them Republicans. This was construed to mean that the Democratic party was likely to succeed to control in the National election in November, and the stock market fraternity seemed to be apprehensive of ill results to follow from such a change. As a consequence, stock prices, which had already evinced a reactionary tendency, plunged further downward, and matters were made still worse by a concurrent break at this time in the low-priced bond issues, though the values of the high-grade bond issues were impaired in only a minor degree. About this time other depressing influences came in to accelerate the downward course of values, and in a general way it may be said that, as a result of all these influences and drawbacks, the lowest level of stock prices was reached as a rule about the middle of the month.

From a cursory review of the market, covering the whole month, that is, the early rise as well as the subsequent plunge downward, it appears, as already indicated, that there was further growth of strength at the beginning of the month, the momentum of the great rise in July and August having carried the advance forward into September. There was unqualified buoyancy at the half-day session on Saturday, Sept. 3, after some manifestation of a moderately lower trend on Thursday, Sept. 1, and Friday, Sept. 2, and prices moved rapidly upward, encouraging sanguine expectations as to the course of prices for the immediate future. On Monday, Sept. 5, Labor Day, the Stock Exchange was closed. On Tuesday, Sept. 6, when the Exchange re-opened for business, the daily papers contained the news, printed very conspicuously in large type, that the Federal Farm Board had made arrangements for holding its vast accumulations of cotton off the market until some time in 1933, and had also arranged to take care of the small remainder of its holdings of wheat, so that no concern need any longer be felt, at least for the time being, as to Government operations affecting adversely the ordinary course of values in the case of either commodity. It was supposed that this piece of news would act as a further stimulus, coming on top of the rise the previous Saturday. Instead of that, extensive selling led to a sharp downturn in prices all through the list, with the result that most of the Saturday gains were wiped out. But this proved only a temporary interruption in the then prevailing upward trend. Further recessions in prices were looked for on Wednesday, Sept. 7; on the contrary, the market once more started upward with great vigor and energy, as if nothing had happened, with the result that at the close of that day there was nearly the same display of buoyancy as on the previous Saturday. A further upward movement was now looked for on Thursday, Sept. 8, but again expectations were disappointed. In the early part of that day the market displayed hesitancy as if awaiting some important event. This came at the noon hour, when the Agricultural Bureau at Washington made public its report on the growing cotton crop and estimated it higher than had been looked for. As a consequence, the price of cotton dropped $5 a bale. This dealt a severe blow to stocks, and as commodity prices, at the same time, developed weakness in other directions, not alone in cotton, but in wheat, rubber and in some other commodities, considerable selling eventuated on the Stock Exchange, and stocks declined all around. Another adverse feature on the same day, which doubtless accelerated the decline in prices, was the announcement that the American Car & Foundry Co., owing to the sharp curtailment of equipment buying by the railroads, had suffered such a large reduction of its earnings that it was obliged to suspend the quarterly dividend on the preferred stock, breaking a continuity of dividend payments on these preferred shares extending back for 33 years, or to the date of the organization of the company. The market, however, appeared to regain tone the next two days.

On Monday, Sept. 12, there came the first of a series of unfavorable developments, which, combined, definitely reversed the course of the market and started it in the downward direction, as the result of which a goodly portion of the prodigious antecedent rise was lost. The adverse piece of news on Monday, Sept. 12, was that the Inter-State Commerce Commission had refused to recommend a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the New York Chicago & St. Louis RR. of the full $20,000,000 required to take up the $20,000,000 of three-year notes falling due on Oct. 1, but instead approved advances to the extent of only 25% of the $20,000,000, and made this conditional on the deposit with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of evidence that the holders of substantially all of the three-year notes would agree to an extension of the other 75% for a term of not less than three years. The market price of the notes, as a result, dropped 16¼ points, or from 58 on the previous Saturday to 41¾ on the Monday in question (Sept. 12). At the same time nearly all other low-priced railroad bond issues, where the roads are dependent upon the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for aid, also sharply declined, and stock prices tumbled all around. On Tuesday, Sept. 13, the market received a second bad blow in the news of the defeat of the Republican party in the State election in Maine, to which reference has already been made. Concurrently, about this time, and as a further depressing feature, the soldier bonus proposition, which would make a draft on the United States Treasury in the amount of $2,300,000,000, again thrust itself into prominence. The American Legion, in National Convention at Portland, Ore., voted in favor of the proposition, notwithstanding President Hoover's opposition and his broad and unqualified statement that in his judgment "the enactment of any such proposal into legislation would be a deadly blow at the welfare of the nation." Concurrently, wheat and cotton prices evinced a declining tendency.

As a result of all this, the market fell into a very shaky condition, and this appears to have led to very extensive short selling, paving the way for a very respectable rally. On Wednesday, Sept. 21, quite unexpectedly, and with startling suddenness, prices shot upward in very sensational fashion. All the active trading stocks in the morning of that day opened at brisk advances from the closing figures the day before, and the course continued upward during the remainder of the day, with the result that at the end of the day net gains in a long list of stocks ran as high as 5, 6, and 7 points, while in the case of some specialties the advances reached 8 and 9 points or more. The average of the 50 selected stocks included in the compilation of the New York "Times" showed a rise for the day of $6.40 a share, the appreciation in the case of the 25 industrial stocks included in the total number of 50 reaching $9.39 a share and that in the 25 railway stocks $3.41 a share. The "Times" stated that at no time in the prolonged advance from July 8 to Sept. 8 had there been such a wide upturn in prices for a single day. As it happened, too, there was some recovery at this time in the price of both wheat and cotton, all of which served to stimulate still further the rallying tendency now under way. A political development may have played some part at this time in the sudden great upward rebound n prices, at least it was referred to as one of the contributing influences. We allude to the political overturn in Wisconsin, where the radical element headed by the La Follette family suffered defeat at the Republican primaries for the first time in the 32 years during which the Progressive regime in that State had been working with great smoothness. Governor Philip La Follette, the brother of Senator Robert M. La Follette, ran some 94,000 votes behind Walter L. Cohler, the Conservative candidate for the Governorship, and Senator John J. Blaine, also a Progressive, likewise suffered defeat. Both Mr. Blaine and the La Follette family are radical political enemies of President Hoover, and their defeat was looked upon by the supporters of Mr. Hoover as a cheering development and as tempering the Republican setback in the State of Maine.

The upward rebound, however, was not fully maintained, and soon prices again began to sag towards lower levels. The principal factor in this new downward reaction was a bad break in several low-priced bonds, more especially the different issues of Baltimore & Ohio bonds, and the New York Chicago & St. Louis 6s, these latter dropping on Thursday, Sept. 22, 11½ points from the previous day's closing figures. The decline in the Baltimore & Ohio issues was caused by news that consideration of the application of the Baltimore & Ohio RR. for a loan of $31,625,000 for refunding maturing securities on March 1 1933 had been deferred by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation until a later date. The loan had already been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and $6,335,000 was to have been advanced immediately, with the remainder to be made available by Dec. 15. However, Washington dispatches said: "The Finance Corporation did not feel it should make any disbursement at present inasmuch as the securities do not mature until next March." On Monday, Sept. 26, prices again tumbled badly, and the rest of the month the market displayed considerable irregularity, mainly because of the absence of definite signs of recovery in trade and business, and likewise because of political developments, more especially the fact that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was making numerous speeches in his tour through the country, and in these speeches gave expression to many radical views and statements that were not favorably regarded. There were some other circumstances that served also to hold prices down, such as the reductions in gasoline prices, which naturally acted as a wet blanket on the oil stocks, and which found new expression on Wednesday, Sept. 28, when the Standard Oil Co. of New York reduced the tank wagon and service station prices of gasoline one cent a gallon in the New York metropolitan district, Long Island, Westchester, Connecticut, Albany and Buffalo. In Boston a reduction of 1½c. a gallon was made. Other leading gasoline distributors in the same locality made similar reductions. The action of the Standard Oil of New York followed cuts throughout a large section of the country east of the Rocky Mountains.

Trading continued of large volume the early part of the month, when prices were still rising, but dwindled down considerably in the closing days of the month, when, indeed, the market often fell into a stagnant condition, with sales not much above a million shares a day. For the month as a whole the sales on the New York Stock Exchange reached 67,381,004 shares. This compared with 82,625,795 shares in August, but with 51,040,168 shares in September 1931 and 53,545,145 shares in September 1930; back in September 1929 the sales for the month aggregated 100,056,120 shares. On the New York Curb Exchange the sales for the month reached 8,380,994 shares as against 10,471,483 shares in August, and comparing with 10,020,250 shares in September 1931; 11,787,265 shares in September 1930, and 40,041,500 shares in September 1929. Of the stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, 474 established new high records for the year during September, mainly in the early part of the month, and 10 stocks dropped to new low levels for the year. On the New York Curb Exchange 271 stocks recorded new high figures for the year during the month, and 22 stocks reached new low levels.

As far as the fluctuations in separate stocks are concerned, a few instances will serve to indicate the general course of prices. United States Steel, after opening Sept. 1 at 45¾, touched 52½ Sept. 6, then dropped to 35⅝ Sept. 20, and closed Sept. 30 at 43. Allied Chemical & Dye, as it happened, closed on Sept. 30 at the same figure as at the opening on Sept. 1, namely, 80; in the meantime the stock sold up to 88¼ Sept. 8, and down to 71 Sept. 15. American Can, after opening at 56 on Sept. 1, touched 62¼ Sept. 9, dropped to 48¼ Sept. 19, and closed Sept. 30 at 54¾. J. I. Case Threshing Machine, opening Sept. 1 at 57½, advanced to 65¾ Sept. 3, then fell to 41⅜ Sept. 19, and closed Sept. 30 at 54½. Consolidated Gas of N. Y. opened at 60 Sept. 1, reached 66 Sept. 8, fell to 54¾ Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 61⅜. E. I. du Pont de Nemours opened Sept. 1 at 39½, advanced to 46½ Sept. 7, declined to 34¾ Sept. 14, and closed Sept. 30 at 42¾; General Electric opened Sept. 1 at 20, touched 23⅜ Sept. 8, fell to 16 Sept. 13, and closed Sept. 30 at 18⅝ ex-div. American & Foreign Power opened at 12⅝ Sept. 1, advanced to 15 Sept. 6, then fell to 7½ Sept. 13, with the close Sept. 30 at 10⅜. North American opened Sept. 1 at 37¾, advanced to 43¼ Sept. 8, dropped to 30⅛ Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 34⅜. Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. opened at 40¼ Sept. 1, advanced to 43½ Sept. 7, then tumbled to 27¼ Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 35⅝. In the railroad list Atchison common opened Sept. 1 at 53½, rose to 64 Sept. 8, then fell to 48 Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 54¼; Norfolk & Western opened Sept. 1 at 107 and closed Sept. 30 at the same figure, but in the interval sold up to 116 Sept. 8, and down to 95 Sept. 13; Delaware & Hudson, after opening Sept. 1 at 84¼ and advancing to 92½ Sept. 3, dropped to 71⅞ Sept. 15, and closed Sept. 30 at 74 bid and 77 asked; New York Central opened Sept. 1 at 28¾ and closed Sept. 30 at 29¼, with its high figure for the month 32⅝ Sept. 23, and the low figure 22⅛ Sept. 14; Reading common opened at 46⅜ Sept. 1, touched 52¼ Sept. 2, then fell to 32 Sept. 15, and was quoted Sept. 30 at 39 bid and 44¼ asked; Union Pacific opened Sept. 1 at 77¾, rose to 83¼ Sept. 8, declined to 68½ Sept. 13, and closed Sept. 30 at 75¼. The railroad list at times was strong when the general market was weak.

The bond market suffered some bad breaks in the case of some of the low-priced issues, like Baltimore & Ohio and New York Chicago & St. Louis, for the reason enumerated above, but the high-priced issues were well maintained, as a rule. Foreign issues generally moved higher, as also United States Government obligations, many of these latter to new high levels for the year. In the following table we show the fluctuations in the different issues of United States obligations, and also in a large list of railroad and industrial bonds, and a considerable number likewise of foreign bond issues.

THE MONEY MARKET DURING SEPTEMBER 1932.

There was a further accentuation of ease in the money market, though this had previously seemed impossible. Indeed, a very curious situation of the money market came about during the month. A point was reached in the overwhelming plethora of funds where in the case of certain short-term obligations the return to the purchaser was absolutely less than nothing, if allowance be made for the premium paid. The expansion of National bank circulation under the new circulation privileges conferred upon the National banks played an important part in bringing about this phenomenal situation, nearly $50,000,000 more of bank notes having been put out during September, in addition to $50,000,000 of new emissions during August, making $100,000,000 for the two months combined, though there were other contributory causes. There is an allusion to the subject in the "Monthly Review" for Oct. 1 of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. After noting that open market money rates showed little change during September, this publication goes on to say that the principal exception was in the case of the yield on short-term Government securities. "Reflecting the value placed on the tax exemption feature and on expected exchange privileges, the Government securities that mature within six months sold near the end of September at premiums that more than eliminated all net income." A table is also given to show that on the basis of current quotations for Treasury securities maturing Dec. 15 1932 and those maturing March 15 1933 absolutely no yield can be obtained for these issues. There is also an interesting discussion of the causes that have led to the large purchases of Government securities by the banks and to such active bidding for them that a premium is paid for short-term Government securities which serve to render any yield from the same out of the question; in other words, making the investment directly unprofitable, though there may be other advantages of a collateral nature to offset any loss. We reproduce from the "Review" the following paragraphs:

"In view of this reduction in other forms of credit and the large requirements of the Government, which is now financing indirectly many transactions which under more normal conditions would be done directly through commercial and investment banking channels, an increasing proportion of bank funds necessarily is employed in Government securities. Consequently, while bank loans have continued to decline, investments in Government securities have increased rapidly, and practically all of the recent increase in member banks credit has been in that form. On Sept. 21 the Government security holdings of the reporting banks showed an increase of $490,000,000 over a month previous, and constituted a larger proportion of total loans and investments than at any time since early in 1919. Most of the increase has been in securities of relatively short maturity.

"The recent increase in bank credit followed a further strengthening of the position of member banks, which was reflected in continued reduction in their indebtedness at the Reserve banks and at correspondent banks and a further increase in their reserves. There was also a marked decrease in the amount of funds the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was called upon to advance to banks. These changes were the result of the same causes as in the preceding month —a continued gain of gold by this country, a further return flow of hoarded currency to the banks, and additional issues of National bank notes. During September the increase in the monetary gold stock of the United States amounted to approximately $102,000,000, bringing the total gain since the middle of June to around $280,000,000, and the amount of currency in circulation showed a net reduction of $86,000,000 between Aug. 31 and Sept. 28, contrary to the usual seasonal movement. The volume of National bank notes issued under the recent amendment of the banking laws was increased about $50,000,000 further during September, and a large volume of currency of other types was retired. A considerable part of the funds obtained by member banks directly or indirectly from these sources was used for the repayment of indebtedness, and the total loans of Federal Reserve banks to member banks were reduced $93,000,000 further during September to a new low point for the past year. Member bank reserve balances increased about $120,000,000 further, and in the latter part of the month were between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000 above minimum requirements, although they remained about $150,000,000 below the level maintained during most of the year 1931 up to the period of the heavy gold outflow."

The New York Reserve Bank also makes note of the fact that there has in recent weeks been a large expansion in the utilization of banking credit, and that this has been reflected in the purchases of United States Government securities. On that point it analyzes the situation as follows:

"Reports from member banks in principal cities during the past month have given further indication of a termination of the rapid decline in bank credit. During the four weeks ended Sept. 21 there was a net increase of $431,000,000 in the total loans and investments of all weekly reporting banks, due to a heavy participation in the new Government securities issued on Sept. 15. Most of this increase occurred in New York City, where the principal banks have been well supplied with reserves for several months. The net increase in the loans and investments of New York member banks in the four weeks ended Sept. 21 was $323,000,000, bringing the total increase since July 20 to $511,000,000. Reporting member banks in other cities throughout the country also showed some net increase in their total loans and investments in the four weeks ended Sept. 21, whereas in the preceding month there was practically no change, and in every previous month for more than a year there had been net declines.

"The moderate upturn in member bank credit during the past two months followed recoveries in commodity and security prices from the low levels reached early in the summer, but in general has not been in types of credit that are directly related to the commodity and security markets. Loans to brokers and dealers in securities placed by New York City member banks for their own account and for out-of-town banks, have increased approximately $80,000,000 during the past two months, but there have been more than offsetting declines in other security loans of the reporting member banks, and the total security loans of these banks declined to the lowest level since the summer of 1924. All other loans of the reporting banks, which consist largely of commercial loans, have also been reduced further in recent weeks and on Sept. 21 were well under the lowest point reached in 1922. This is true both in New York City and elsewhere. Under the existing conditions of severely reduced business activity and difficulty in making profits, the amount of commercial loans currently required by business concerns or justified by their position is considerably reduced."

The call loan rate on the New York Stock Exchange was maintained unchanged at 2% all through the month, this being the rate charged both for new loans and for renewals of existing loans. In the outside market, however, concessions were always obtainable from this 2% figure. In the opening days of the month there was some stiffening in the outside channels, the rate advancing on Thursday, Sept. 8, from 1¼% to 1½%, and on Friday, Sept. 9, to 1¾%. But gradually there was a return to the 1¼% rate, and on Tuesday, Sept. 20, there was a drop to 1%, at which latter figure the outside rate remained for the rest of the month. United States Treasury operations in the middle of the month were large in size, as is usually the case at the quarterly tax dates, but were carried through without the least friction, and the Treasury derived such large amounts of cash through the new issues (which, as stated further above, were allotted in amount of $1,285,848,500 instead of $1,150,000,000, the nominal offering) that it did not have to indulge in any one-day borrowing at the Federal Reserve Bank on either Sept. 15 or the days immediately following, quite contrary to the usual experience. This feature has been dealt with at length in the earlier part of this article in our narrative with reference to the September financing of the United States Treasury.

Time loans on security collateral were again without any demand, only an occasional transaction being reported, and the latter part of the month whatever business was done was at 1%, with the range nominally at 1@1¼%. The commercial paper market was without any new feature. A litfle more paper was available at the close of the month, but the supply remained wholly inadequate to meet the demand. Quotations for choice names of 4 to 6 months' maturity remained at 2@2¼%, with names less well known commanding 2½%. In the case of some very high-class 90-day paper there were, as previously, occasional transactions at 1¾%. Reports received by the New York Federal Reserve Bank from dealers in commercial paper showed a total of $108,100,000 of open market commercial paper outstanding on Aug. 31, as against $100,400,000 on July 31. In the two preceding years a decline occurred between July and August.

It was pointed out, however, that outstandings continued to be "less than 40% as large as in 1931."

There was no change whatever in the rates for bankers' acceptances during September, quotations remaining at ⅞ of 1% bid and ¾ of 1% asked for 30-, 60- and 90-day bills, 1% bid and ⅞ of 1% asked for 120 days, and 1¼% bid and 1⅛% asked for 150 days and 180 days. There was at all times a ready demand for bills, but with the offerings very scarce. The bill-buying rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank for one to 90-day endorsed bills remained unchanged at 1%, also at 1⅛% for bills running from 91 to 120 days, and at 1½% for maturities from 121 to 180 days. The decline in the volume of bankers' acceptances, which has been in steady progress since the first of the year, continued during August and brought the total at the end of that month to a new low figure since Oct. 31 1926. The survey of the American Acceptance Council, whose report for the end of August was released Sept. 20, showed the total Aug. 31 to be only $681,465,807, a decrease during August of $23,180,785. Compared with the corresponding week in 1931, the falling off is $408,934,042. The American Acceptance Council says that a large part of the August reduction was due to the retirement of grain credits by the Grain Stabilization Board, but that the substantial reduction in other types of acceptances indicated a continued tendency of the principal accepting banks to offer their borrowing customers cash on notes instead of credit through acceptances. It is pointed out by the New York Reserve Bank that the proportion of the total volume of outstanding bills owned by the accepting institutions was increased "even further" during September. At the end of August the accepting institutions held $574,000,000 of bills, or nearly 85% of all the bills outstanding at that date of $681,465,807. The holdings of acceptances for account of the Federal Reserve banks remained very light (in fact, next to nothing, if allowance be made for the fact that the figures given in the weekly returns of the Federal Reserve banks include foreign bills—that is, bills representing the credits extended to Germany and other countries). The amount of the bill holdings reported for Sept. 28 was $33,604,000, whereas the foreign bills on Aug. 31 (these being the latest figures available) stood at $30,834,000. The bills held by the Reserve institutions for account of foreign central banks were reported Sept. 28 at $43,486,000, which compares with $49,043,000 on Aug. 31, but with $100,118,000 12 months before, on Sept. 30 1931.

THE RETURNS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS—BROKERS' LOANS IN NEW YORK CITY.

The Federal Reserve banks further strengthened their position during September. They reduced the volume of Federal Reserve notes in circulation, increased their holdings of gold, and also reported some decrease in the volume of Reserve credit outstanding. Besides which, there were no further additions to the holdings of United States Government bonds as security for Federal Reserve notes. The amount of Federal Reserve notes in circulation Sept. 28 was down to $2,720,988,000 as against $2,814,020,000 on Aug. 31 and $2,861,948,000 July 20. This was a natural contraction, seeing the increase that is taking place in National bank circulation as a result of the Borah-Glass rider to the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, nearly $50,000,000 more of National bank notes having been put out in September in addition to $50,000,000 in August. The volume of Reserve credit outstanding, as measured by the bill and security holdings, stood at $2,231,806,000 Sept. 28 as against $2,324,434,000 on Aug. 31. The decrease here followed from the reduction in the discount holdings, which reflect direct borrowing by the member banks. It is claimed that such borrowing is reduced by the putting out of new bank notes, these being used to pay off indebtedness owing to the Federal Reserve institutions. The discount holdings of the 12 Reserve institutions Sept. 28 were $339,647,000 against $432,756,000 Aug. 31. The changes in the holdings of acceptances were immaterial. The changes in the holdings of United States Government securities were also quite small, the amount Sept. 28 being $1,853,683,000 as against $1,851,715,000 Aug. 31, the policy of acquiring new blocks of United States Government securities from week to week having been discontinued, as noted in our review for the previous month. The gold holdings, as a result of the new inflow of the metal from abroad and the release of gold held here under ear-mark for foreign account, increased from $2,772,961,000 Aug. 31 to $2,878,646,000 Sept. 28. As a result of the increase in gold holdings, combined with the contraction in Federal Reserve note circulation, the ratio of total reserve to deposits and Federal Reserve note liabilities combined was raised from 58.9% Aug. 31 to 60.8% Sept. 28. The improvement in ratio would have been larger than this except that deposit liabilities were heavily increased, the total of deposits of all kinds having increased from $2,241,284,000 Aug. 31 to $2,353,142,000 Sept. 28, mainly as the result of the increase in the reserve deposits of the member banks which ran up from $2,146,183,000 Aug. 31 to $2,268,532,000 Sept. 28. This increase in member banks reserve deposits is mentioned as one of the effects of the increase in National bank circulation, the banks using these new bank notes to increase their reserves with the Federal Reserve institutions.

The Federal Reserve banks reported only $503,800,000 of Government bonds held as part collateral for Federal Reserve note issues on Sept. 28 against $578,100,000 Aug. 31. Acceptances held for account of foreign central banks were $43,486,000 Sept. 28 against $49,043,000 Aug. 31; a year earlier, on Sept. 30 1931, these holdings on foreign account footed up $100,118,000. Foreign bank deposits held by the Federal Reserve institutions were only $9,864,000 Sept. 28 against $14,187,000 on Aug. 31, but on Sept. 30 of the previous year these foreign bank deposits with the Reserve institutions were reported at $95,135,000.

Brokers' loans, as shown by the returns to the New York Federal Reserve Bank by the reporting member banks in New York City showed an increase from $345,000,000 Aug. 31 to $425,000,000 Sept. 28. The monthly statement of broker borrowing by members of the New York Stock Exchange also showed some further increase during September, the borrowings on Sept. 30 being reported at $379,801,583 against $331,699,320 on Aug. 31 and $241,599,943 on July 30.

COURSE OF STERLING EXCHANGE DURING SEPTEMBER.

Sterling exchange during September continued its downward course and cable transfers on London, after recovering from 3.46⅝ Sept. 1 to 3.49⅝ Sept. 7, thereafter again turned slowly downward, with the range Sept. 30 at 3.44 11-16@3.46 1-16. In the main, the weakness followed from seasonal pressure against sterling, rising out of the offerings of bills against grain, cotton and other imports, as well as from the decline in tourist traffic, which always drops off after the first week in September. In addition, there was a flow of funds from London to the New York security market. The firmer quotations the early part of the month were attributed largely to a considerable demand from Paris and French interests were reported to be selling francs against sterling, carrying the operations over into the local market. The British Government on Sept. 9 announced that the loan of 2,500,000,000 francs (roughly, $100,000,000) subscribed about 12 months before by the French public, had been paid in accordance with the terms of the original invoice. A cablegram from London, Sept. 9, stated that thus all the foreign credits obtained by the British Treasury at the time of the crisis in August and September 1931 had been repaid in full on or before the due dates, without the right to redraw them either in whole or in part being retained in any case. While there was a flow of funds from London to the New York security market, the renewed confidence held in the London situation continued to attract a large volume of funds to London from all parts of the world, with the result that money rates in London dropped to extremely low figures. Call money against bills at the close of September was abundant in London at from ½% to ¼%, while two months' bills were quoted at 7-16% to ½%; three months' bills at ½% to 9-16%; four months' bills at ⅝% to ¾%, and six months' bills at ¾% to 1%. The latter part of the month the flow of funds to this side lessened somewhat, the abundance and cheapness of funds in London having made the London market less attractive to foreign funds, while the course of security prices and business prospects on this side continued to keep the New York market inviting, thereby adding to the seasonal pressure against sterling.

The British Government on Sept. 30 authorized the Bank of England to continue the £15,000,000 extra fiduciary note issue to the end of the year. Authority to issue this £15,000,000 of extra fiduciary notes was originally granted on Aug. 1 1931, and the date for its withdrawal has been repeatedly extended since then. The Bank of England continued to add to its gold holdings week after week, and is also believed to have acquired gold for the British Treasury through the Exchange Equalization Fund. In the week ending Sept. 7 the Bank of England reported a gain of £151,196 in gold; in the week ending Sept. 14 a gain of £264,000; in the week ending Sept. 21 a gain of £154,302, and in the week ending Sept. 28 a gain of £21,463. It is believed that the London authorities were frequently compelled to support the sterling rate, especially in the New York market, though operations appeared to be confined mainly to preventing any very wide fluctuations, but to limit them within a narrow range now that the rate has got down to such low figures. Besides this, the British authorities allowed considerable amounts of gold to go to New York, $5.500,000 of the metal having been received from England during September. Considerable amounts of gold were also received at New York from Holland, Canada and from Mexico, and even from India, and these latter arrivals may have represented gold shipments that were deflected from London to New York. The New York Federal Reserve Bank summarizes the gold movement to the United States during September as follows:

"During the month of September there was a gain of about $102,000,000 in the monetary gold stock of the United States, following a rise of $114,000,000 in August. From the mid-June low point this country's monetary gold stock has now been increased some $280,000,000, principally as a result of gold released from the ear-marked accounts of foreign central banks, but also due in part to the receipt of a sizable amount of imported gold.

"For the month of September the net decrease in the amount of gold held under ear-mark for foreign account amounted to $72,300,000, the proceeds of which were paid to New York City banks. Included in this amount were funds for the redemption of about $15,000,000 of Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean RR. bonds which were called for payment on Sept. 15.

"Imports of gold at New York during September amounted to about $20.000,000, of which $5.500,000 was received from England, $5,600,000 from Holland, $3,500,000 from Canada, $2,800,000 from India, and $2.200,000 from Mexico. At San Francisco, $4.000,000 was imported from China and $500,000 from Australia. There were virtually no gold exports."

Canadian exchange continued at a severe discount throughout the month, though the rate became gradually more favorable to Montreal. On Sept. 30 the Canadian dollar was at a discount of only 9 7-16% as against 10⅜@10¼ on Sept. 1. The floating of $60.000,000 one-year 4% gold notes in this market on Sept. 27 was partly responsible for the improvement in the rate. The issue was promptly disposed of at wholesale. It is meant to provide for $40.000.000 Treasury 4s maturing in New York on Dec. 1. leaving $20,000.000 to be transferred to Canada.

THE CONTINENTAL AND OTHER FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

Rates of exchange on the Continental centers of Europe still continued to move lower. Nearly all the different currencies were inclined to weakness, owing to seasonal pressure, and all of course felt the effects of the cessation of tourist requirements. In addition, there were considerable transfers of funds to the New York market from a number of the Continental centers, in particular from Holland and Switzerland, reflecting in part balances which had taken refuge in those countries earlier in the year, when there was a fear that the United States might be forced off the gold standard, but which returned to New York now that confidence in the United States dollar had been restored, but a part also being due to a movement of capital and funds for investment in the New York security market. The French franc was perhaps better maintained than most of the other leading Continental units, but cable transfers on Paris were quoted at 3.91 11-16@3.91⅞ Sept. 30 as against 3.92⅛ on Sept. 1. This, too, in face of the fact that the French authorities carried through a large funding operation at home, and also had to arrange for some special payments here in the United States. The refunding operation reflected the conversion of French rentes in the aggregate amount of 85,000,000,000 francs (approximately $3,332,000,000), all high-rate issues, into obligations bearing only 4½% interest. The details have been given under a separate heading in the earlier part of this article, and it is only necessary to say here that the conversion was successful beyond all expectations, cash reimbursements being necessary only to about 2½% of the total. In French financial circles the view was taken that the rate of 4½% fixed in the conversion issue would tend to keep gold coming to France, as the rates of interest on Government bonds in Great Britain, Holland, the United States and Switzerland are much lower.

The French operation in this country represented the redemption of about $18,000,000 7% bonds of the Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean RR. of France, this being in addition to the redemption made by the same road in August. As a step in the process of redemption, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on Sept. 15 acquired $16,393,200 gold, which was purchased from the ear-marked stock held here for account of the Bank of France. The New York "Journal of Commerce," in its issue of Sept. 16, stated that the Bank of France sold its gold to the Bankers' Trust Co., trustee of the issue, which immediately resold the metal to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, for which it received new Reserve deposits. At the same time, the Bankers' Trust Co. credited this amount to the Bank of France, which, through transactions in France, transferred the entire amount to the French road. "The net results were that the French road acquired the necessary amount of dollars to redeem the issue, the trustee acquired Reserve funds, and the Bank of France lost, while the Reserve bank acquired gold."

In financial circles the belief was also expressed that France was selling much of her ear-marked gold in New York to Holland and Switzerland. The Swiss, Dutch and other central banks, it appeared, were selling their gold to Paris in return for the transfer of French ear-marked gold in New York to their respective accounts. In this way the Bank of France was virtually repatriating gold held here without any expense of shipment. Of course, the other central banks used the transferred ear-marked gold to support their currencies against the dollar, or to arrange for payments on this side. The Bank of France, in its return for the week ending Sept. 9, reported an increase in gold holdings of 169,309,837 francs; in the week ending Sept. 16 it showed a further gain of 107,704,549 francs; in the week ending Sept. 23 a gain of 113.852,823 francs, while the return for the week ending Sept. 30 showed still another gain of 60,000,000 francs.

In the case of Germany, the feature was the reduction in the discount rate of the Bank of Germany from 5% to 4%. The consent to do this of the Bank for International Settlements had first to be obtained. This Bank, meeting at Basle, Switzerland, on Sept. 19, by renouncing its right to protest against amendments of the German Reichsbank's statutes, opened the way for the reduction in rate. President von Hindenburg accordingly, by decree, suspended until Sept. 30 1934 the provision of the statute that the discount rate might not be reduced below 5% so long as the circulation coverage was less than 40%. On Sept. 21 the Reichsbank officially reduced the rate, the reduction becoming effective the next day. The Lombard rate, or the rate on securities, was at the same time lowered from 6% to 5%. The only other change in the discount rate of any European central bank during September was that of the National Bank of Czechoslovakia, which on Sept. 24 reduced its rate from 5% to 4½%, though on this continent the Bank of the Republic of Colombia also made a change, lowering its rate from 6% to 5% on Sept. 19.

Rates of exchange on Berlin remained under control of the Bank of Germany, and the quotations here, which for that reason were more or less nominal, fluctuated rather erratically. Cable transfers on Berlin, from 23.78@23.80 Sept. 1, dropped to 23.76½@23.79½ Sept. 6, but then moved up again, and were 23.80@23.82 Sept. 17, with the range Sept. 30 23.79@23.80. The Bank of Germany, in its return for the first quarter of September, showed an increase in gold and bullion of 128,000 marks, a further increase of 12,771,000 marks in the second quarter; 392,000 marks in the third quarter, and with an increase of 14,740,000 marks in the fourth quarter of the month. Note circulation of the bank decreased 128,127,000 marks the first quarter, 91,421,000 marks in the second quarter, and 92.786,000 marks in the third quarter, with an expansion of 249,970,000 marks in the fourth quarter. Albert H. Wiggin, Chairman of the committee representing the American short-term creditors under the German standstill credit agreement of 1932, issued a statement on Sept. 11 announcing that as no matters of particular importance had been presented for discussion at the meeting, which under the agreement was scheduled to take place on Oct. 1, the various creditor committees, in accord with the German committee, had decided to adjourn the meeting subject to call by the Chairman at such later date as he may consider suitable, or at the request of any one of the committees.

Press advices from Berlin that the International credit of $90,000,000 granted in 1931 to the German Reichsbank had been renewed were confirmed on Sept. 6 by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The renewal date was Sept. 5. The credit was originally opened for $100,000,000 on June 26 1931, one-fourth being supplied each by the Bank for International Settlements, the Bank of England, the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve banks in this country. The credit was repeatedly extended and on March 4 1932 was again renewed for three months, subject to a reduction of 10% of the principal, and was renewed in the reduced amount on June 4, and now was once more extended on Sept. 5. Postponement by the German authorities of a 33,050,000-mark payment due the United States Government on Sept. 30 was announced in Washington on Sept. 28 by Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills. Speyer & Co., however, as fiscal agents for $2,800,000 City of Frankfort-on-Main 7% serial gold bonds, announced that they had received the regular remittances for the payment of the Oct. 1 coupons of these bonds and for the payment of $200,000 bonds maturing on that date. They also announced that as fiscal agents they had received the regular remittances for payment of the Oct. 1 coupons of the $11,355,000 City of Berlin 25-year 6½% gold bonds of 1925, and of the $13,125,000 Berlin Electric Elevated and Underground Railways Co. 30-year first mortgage 6½% gold bonds, and also the regular remittances for the semi-annual sinking fund for these loans.

A fact of some interest as indicating the prolonged character of some of the European troubles is that the Budapest Stock Exchange was reopened on Sept. 20 after business had been suspended for 14 months.

Italian lire were about the only European currency that developed no weakness during September. The fluctuations in Italian exchange during the month were very narrow, and cable transfers on London were quoted at 5.12½@5.12⅝ Sept. 30 as against 5.12¼@5.12½ Sept. 1. The strength in the Italian unit was due largely to the confidence felt in the economic prospects of the country and the conservative policy of the Bank of Italy.

In exchange on the countries neutral during the war considerable pressure developed. This was due in part to seasonal influences, as import bills for cotton, grain and other commodities accumulated. It was also due to cessation of tourist requirements for exchange on European countries, and, so far as Holland and Switzerland in particular are concerned, the exchanges have been under the adverse effect of an outward flow of funds for investment in other markets, notably in Paris, London and New York, where opportunities for employment are more attractive. Reports in banking quarters had it that Holland guilders and Swiss francs were finding official support. Much of this support, it was thought, was being manifested in Paris, where Dutch and Swiss gold was being sold to the Bank of France in exchange for the transfer by the Bank of France of earmarked gold held in New York. By the acquisition of these ear-marked stocks both currencies were supported in the New York market. As noted further above, considerable amounts of Holland gold were received in New York, but, according to press dispatches from Amsterdam, these shipments came from gold holdings in private banks. This statement appeared to be borne out by the fact that the latest balance sheet of the Bank of the Netherlands showed an unchanged gold position of 1,034,000,000 guilders. Holland was meeting her grain requirements and importing large amounts of that commodity. Normally Amsterdam would have met the situation through balances held abroad, but these balances were withdrawn to such an extent when the different European centers reclaimed their gold holdings here in the spring that the dollar balances left here were negligible. Cable transfers on Switzerland were down to 19.27½@19.28½ Sept. 30 as against 19.38½@19.39½ Sept. 1. Cable transfers for Dutch guilders were 40.15½@40.17 Sept. 30 as against 40.23@40.24 Sept. 1. At one time, that is, on Sept. 8, the rate was as low as 40.11@40.12½.

The Scandinavian currencies also show a weakening tendency, but not uniformly so, moving generally in unison with the pound sterling, as in the past. In the early part of September, when the sterling rate moved higher, the Scandinavian units also showed an improving tendency, while later they moved downward with the London rate. The Danish crown on cable transfers advanced from 17.85 Sept. 2 to 18.14 Sept. 7, and was 17.90@17.95 Sept. 30. The Swedish crown on cable transfers moved up from 17.79 Sept. 1 to 17.97 Sept. 7, and was 17.72@17.76 Sept. 30. The Norwegian crown rose from 17.37½ Sept. 1 to 17.57 Sept. 13, and was 17.40@17.45 Sept. 30. Spanish pesetas continued to display independent strength, and cable transfers on Spain, as against 8.04@8.05 Sept. 1, sold up to 8.19@8.21 Sept. 20, and were 8.17@8.17½ Sept. 30.

Exchange on South America continued without special feature, quotations being largely nominal, the foreign exchange and foreign trade transactions of all these countries being under strict regulation of Government control boards. Signs of improvement, however, were apparent in the economic situation of many of the South American countries. Buenos Aires dispatches the latter part of the month stated that the Argentine Government appeared to have taken care of its most pressing exchange requirements. There had been an easing of the foreign exchange situation, with freer issuance of remittance permits by the Exchange Control Commission, induced by heavy offerings of export bills. A cablegram from Buenos Aires, Sept. 21, to the New York "Times" stated that the Argentine Government had paid British bankers £384,000 to meet service charges on the foreign debt falling due in London. The Government stated that the payment was made in accordance with Argentina's intention to continue to meet her foreign obligations promptly. On the other hand, a Buenos Aires cablegram, Sept. 10, to the New York "Times" stated that the City Council of Santa Fe had authorized the Mayor to suspend payments on the city's foreign debt for three years. On Sept. 7 the New York "Times" stated that the Argentine Province of Santa Fe had failed to send funds for the payment of interest and sinking fund installments due Sept. 1 on its external 7% sinking fund and 3% annual cumul. gold bonds due in 1942. The Bank of Chile, according to advices to the United States Commerce Department, authorized the use of $10,000,000 gold pesos for the foreign purchase of necessities, foreign exchange restrictions having curtailed Chilean imports of many products for months past. United Press advices from Santiago, Chile, to the New York "Times," Sept. 11, stated that Socialist Chile had taken the first step toward resumption of service on the country's $275,392,000 foreign debt on that day with the publication of a decree creating Caja Antonoma por Amortizacion de la Deuda Publica (Autonomous Sinking Fund for the Amortization of the Public Debt).

In exchange on the Far East the feature was the improvement in the price of the Japanese yen. This appeared to be due to the improvement in Japan's export trade, in part by reason of the rise in the price of silk and in part also because of the fact that Japan being off the gold basis and the Japanese currency unit very much depreciated, Japan has gained an advantage in its trade with the silver-using countries of the East. On Sept. 30 the yen was quoted at 24.05@24.35 against 22⅝@22.70 on Sept. 1. The Chinese currencies all moved lower after the first few days of the month on the decline in the price of silver. The Hong-Kong dollar was quoted at 23.09@23 7-16 Sept. 30 against 23.65@24 1-16 Sept. 1. The Shanghai tael for checks was 30.09@30½ Sept. 30 against 30.98@31.68 Sept. 1, and 31.39@32.00 Sept. 6. Rupees on Bombay moved largely in unison with the pound sterling, and the rate for checks on Sept. 30 was 26.13@26.25 against 26.14@26.20 Sept. 1. The price of silver in London held pretty steady the early part of September, and at one time ruled a trifle higher, but after about Sept. 12 the trend was downward; the quotation Sept. 30 was 17 11-16 pence per ounce against 18 7-16 pence on Sept. 1.

The tables on pages 18 to 40 furnish a complete record of the transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during September and range since Jan. 1. They need no extended introduction, as they are self-explanatory. The tables embrace every security dealt in on the Exchange. We give bonds first, using the classification adopted in the official list. The black-faced letters in the column headed "Interest Period" indicate in each case the month when the bonds mature.

In accordance with the rule adopted by the New York Stock Exchange in 1909, all quotations for interest-paying bonds are at a price to which accrued interest must be added. The exceptions to the rule are income bonds and bonds on which interest is in default. A few other bonds, like the Holland-American Line 6s, for special reasons, are also quoted "flat," but where this is the case the quotation "flat" will be found against the name of the issue. This method of quoting bonds became effective Jan. 2 1909.

For footnotes to tables see last page of bonds and last page of stocks.

General Quotations

OF BONDS AND STOCKS

In the earlier part of this publication complete records of the dealings on the leading stock exchanges of the country, for the latest month and for the calendar year to date, are furnished. In this department of General Quotations we combine in one comprehensive whole, securities of all classes and descriptions, not only those dealt in on the exchanges, but also leading unlisted and inactive securities. The following is an index to the different classes of securities quoted:

Quotations from all Stock Exchanges are as near as possible for the closing day of the month preceding the date of issue. As the New York Stock Exchange began with Jan. 2 1909 to quote all bond prices "and interest," we have adopted the same method and no longer employ a designating mark to indicate the fact except where there is a deviation from this rule. The reader will understand, therefore, that unless the letter "f" is prefixed to the price, he must pay accrued interest in addition to the price. This, however, does not apply to income bonds or bonds in default, in which cases the price includes the interest, should there be any.

The letter "f" prefixed to bond prices denotes that the quotation is a flat price—that is, that the accrued interest forms part of the price, and therefore the purchaser does not have to provide for it separately in making payment. As already stated in the case of income bonds and bonds in default, the price is always "flat," and no designating mark is employed to indicate the fact.

Quotations for equipment bonds are based on average maturities

Quotations for guaranteed stocks are "and dividend"; that is, the accrued dividend must be paid in addition to the price. Stock prices marked thus (d) are per share. All others are per cent except bank stock prices, which are quoted per share unless otherwise stated.

It should be borne in mind in the use of these tables that the quotations for many inactive and unlisted securities are merely nominal, but in all cases the figures are obtained from sources which are considered reliable.

The following abbreviations are often used viz., "M" for mortgage, "g" for gold, "gu" for guaranteed, "end" for endorsed, "cons" for consolidated conv" for convertible, "s f" for sinking fund, "l g" for land grant, "op" for optional.

The black-faced type in the letters showing the interest period indicates the month when the bonds mature.

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities

Under the heading "Industrial and Miscellaneous Securities" we include all issues which do not appear under the previous two headings, namely "Railroads (Steam)" and "Public Utilities." In the case of stocks, however, we put "Textile Manufacturing," "Insurance," "Mining," "Real Estate and Land," "Title Guarantee and Safe Deposit Companies" under separate heads, then follow with the rest of the "Industrial and Miscellaneous."

NOTICE.—All bond prices are "and interest" except where marked "f" and income and defaulted bonds.

United States and Municipal Bonds

In reporting below prices for State an municipal securities, we give bid and asked quotations wherever they can be obtained The custom however, is to quote municipal securities on the basis of the return they yield per annum. Therefore in most cases it will be found that instead of actual prices we have inserted in the column headed "To Net" certain figures to indicate the interest rate at which business in the bonds is being done. Thus 4.35% means that the particular security can be bought or sold at a price that will yield the purchaser or seller 4.35% per annum to the maturity of the issue. Where two figures appear, as for instance "4.25% to 4.35%," the rate of eturn varies according to the maturity—the shorter maturities yielding the lowest rate, and the longer maturities yielding the highest return.

In State and municipal bonds the custom has always been to quote them "and interest." That is, the accrued interest must in all cases be added on.

Note.—Owing to the present demoralized condition of the municipal bond markets, brokers and dealers find it difficult, and in many cases, almost impossible to make quotations for municipal bonds. Bid prices, especially for the smaller municipalities are practically out of the question and sales or terms are simply a matter of bargaining between buyer and seller In fact the absolute lack of demand often causes good bonds to be offered at almost any price.
